QUESTION—HOW STATED.

Rule 3. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to-wit: "As many as are of the opinion that (as the question may be), say 'Aye'" and after an affirmative vote is expressed, "As many as are of the contrary opinion say 'No.'" If the President doubts, or a division be called the convention shall decide—those in the affirmative of the question shall first rise, and afterwards those in the negative.

PRESIDENT'S RIGHT TO VOTE.

Rule 4. The President shall have the right of voting in all cases except on an appeal from his decision and on all questions he shall vote last.

ORDER OF DEBATE.

Rule 5. When any member is about to speak or deliver any matter to the convention, he shall rise and respectfully address himself to "Mr. President," and confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personalities.

Rule 7. When two or more members rise at the same time, the President shall name the member who is in order.

Rule 8. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question, without leaving the convention.

Rule 9. Any five members may move a call of the convention, and require absent members to be sent for, but a call cannot be made after voting is commenced; and a call being ordered and the absentees noted the doors shall be closed and no member be permitted to leave the hall until the report of the Sergeant-at-Arms be received and acted upon, or further proceedings under the call are suspended by a vote of a majority of all the members of the convention.

EITHER HOUSE MAY AMEND, ETC.

Rule 10. It shall be in the power of either House to amend any amendment made by the other to any bill or resolution.

BILLS—HOW ENROLLED AND SIGNED.

Rule 11. After a bill, memorial or resolution shall have passed both Houses it shall be duly enrolled in typewriting by the Enrolling Clerk of the House in which it originated. They shall then obtain the signatures and certificates of the proper officers to the enrolled copies, present the same to the Governor for his approval, and report the date of such presentation to their respective Houses.

Whenever there shall be an election of any officer in joint convention the result shall be certified by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, and by them announced to their respective houses, and shall be entered on the Journal of each and communicated to the Governor by the Secretary of the convention.

COMMITTEES OF CONFERENCE.

Rule 13. In every case of difference between the two Houses upon any subject of legislation, if either shall request a conference, and appoint a committee for that purpose, the other shall also appoint a Committee, and such Committee shall meet at a time and place to be agreed upon by the Chairman, and state to each other the views of their respective Houses, and freely confer thereon; and they shall be authorized to report to their respective Houses such modifications as they shall think advisable.

EITHER HOUSE MAY RECEDE, ETC.

Rule 14. It shall be in order for either House to recede from any subject or matter of difference existing between the two Houses at any time previous to a conference, whether the papers upon which the difference has arisen are before it or not, and a majority shall govern, except in cases otherwise provided in the Constitution; and the question having been put and lost, shall not be again put upon the same day, and a reconsideration thereof shall in all respects be regulated by the rules of the respective houses.

APPROPRIATIONS OF MONEY—HOW MADE.

Rule 15. The same bill shall not appropriate public money or property to more than one local or private purpose.

No certificate authorizing the payment of any money appropriated by the Legislature shall be issued by the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House, by virtue of any motion or resolution, unless such motion or resolution shall have been carried by a majority of all the members of the House in which it was introduced.

No clause appropriating money for a local or private purpose shall be contained in a bill appropriating money for the state government or public institutions, and all resolutions authorizing the issuing of certificates by the Secretary of the Senate or the Clerk of the House for the payment of money shall be upon the call of the "yeas" and "nays."

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.
ST. PAUL, January 16, 1911.

Honorable S. Y. Gordon, Lieutenant Governor, and the Honorable the Senate of the State of Minnesota, State Capitol.

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor herewith to transmit to your body with my approval a petition of the citizens of the County of Koochiching of this State, addressed to the Legislature of the State of Minnesota, and suggesting that such legislation be placed upon the statute books of the State of Minnesota at the present session of the Legislature to the end that the state be authorized to pay toward the schools of Koochiching County annually such an amount as will represent the sum which would be reased were the land of the state taxed at the same rate which the other lands therein bear.

In this connection I need not call your attention to the fact that the state is the owner of large areas of land in the northern part of the state and that the same may not be taxed, and that by reason thereof settlers and other persons living in the vicinity of these lands, and their children, are deprived of the advantages of a common school education.

Not only the interests of such persons, but the interests of the commonwealth at large demand that a situation such as this should be no longer tolerated. I, therefore, suggest the enactment of appropriate legislation.

Yours respectfully,

ADOLPH O. EBERHART,
Governor.

The petition was referred to the Committee on Finance.

The testimony was taken before Justices of the Peace, as by law provided, and the record of the same, with exhibits, delivered to this Senate and by it turned over to your Committee on Elections, which said record is herewith returned to the Senate.

The case came on for hearing before your Committee on Elections, Tuesday evening, January 17, 1911, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., Messrs. Donohue & Stevens, of Melrose, Minnesota, and A. B. Jackson, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, appearing for the contestants, and R. B. Brower, Esq., of St. Cloud, Minnesota, appearing for the contestee. Pursuant to notice given by the contestee at the conclusion of the taking of the testimony before the Justices, a motion was made at this hearing by the contestee for the dismissal of these proceedings upon the ground and for the reason that the contestant in each proceeding has failed to make out a case. The motion was argued by counsel for both sides, and at said hearing, the contestants withdrew Exhibit No. 14 in said record, and agreed that the same should not be considered as evidence in the case, as no proper foundation had been laid for its admission, and it was not duly authenticated. Said Exhibit No. 14 purported to be a certificate of baptism from Marl, Germany, relative to the baptism of one Johann Joseph Ahmann.

After hearing counsel for both sides upon said motion, and after carefully reading the record in said matter and the authorities furnished by counsel, your Committee finds the following facts relative to said contest:

That the said John J. Ahmann was duly elected Senator from the Fifty-fourth Senatorial District of the State of Minnesota; that he was issued a certificate of election by the proper officers; that he has filed said certificate with this Senate, has taken the oath of office, and now occupies a seat in this body; that he has held various public offices in the past in this state, a member of the State Senate of this state during its last two session; that he has taken oaths in which he swore that he would support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Minnesota; that he has voted for many years past and has conducted himself as a citizen of the United States and of the State of Minnesota. Your Committee further finds that the record discloses no proof that the said John J. Ahmann was born in Germany as alleged in their notice of contest, and no proof as to the place or date of birth of the said John J. Ahmann; that there is proof by admission that the said John J. Ahmann was the son of one Joseph Ahmann; that Joseph Ahmann made his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States in the year 1876, and completed said citizenship and became a citizen of the United States and of the State of Minnesota June 14th, 1881; that it is not definitely shown that the said John J. Ahmann is the son of the said Joseph Ahmann naturalized as above mentioned, and that there is no definite proof of the age of said John J. Ahmann.

The said John J. Ahmann is presumed to be a citizen, as a citizenship is a matter of presumption.

7 Cyc. 147: "In the absence of proof to the contrary, every man is considered a citizen of the country in which he may reside. A man is, however, to be regarded as a citizen of his native state until it can be shown that he has acquired citizenship elsewhere."

The burden is upon the contestants to show that Senator Ahmann was not a citizen of the United States or of the State of Minnesota as alleged in their notice of contest.

"The burden of proof alienage is upon him who asserts it." 2 Cyc. 87.

Your Committee believes that the contestants have failed to discharge this burden and have failed to prove the non-citizenship of said John J. Ahmann. We herewith submit for the consideration of the Senate all the testimony appearing in the record which in the opinion of the Committee even remotely bears on the question of foreign birth of the said John J. Ahmann.

Q. Mr. Emmel, did you know Joseph Ahmann, the father of the contestee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first know him?

A. Well, I couldn't say exactly; some twenty odd years ago.

Q. Well, at about the time that he first come to this country, this part of the country?

A. I couldn't say just when he came to this country.

Q. You also know the contestee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. John J. Ahmann, do you?

A. I do.

Q. And how long have you known him?

A. Twenty odd years.

Q. About the same length of time?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether or not the contestee lived with his father, or with Joseph Ahmann as his father, and maintained a relation of father and son and son and father to him?

A. I couldn't say that. Well, I don't know; I couldn't say that he lived with his father. I got acquainted with him at Richmond, but whether or not he was living with his father at that time I couldn't say.

Q. Do you know whether he was or was not generally known in the community as the son of Joseph Ahmann?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you any personal knowledge of anything being said by either John J. Ahmann or Joseph Ahmann with respect to John J. being the son of Joseph?

A. No.

Mr. Brower: We admit that Joseph Ahmann is the father of Senator Ahmann, the contestee.

Q. I think that's all we wish to ask Mr. Emmel, then. (No answer.) (Record pp. 8-9.)

Mr. Jackson: I understand, Mr. Brower, that it is admitted that the Senator is the son of this Joseph Ahmann, whose naturalization papers have been offered.

Mr. Brower: We admitted that Senator Ahmann is the son of Joseph Ahmann, and our admission stops right there.

Q. You are acquainted with Senator Ahmann, are you, Mr. Vossberg?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know whether he was a son of the Joseph Ahmann whose naturalization you were a witness to?

A. That is what they reported to be.

Q. Did you ever see him with Joseph Ahmann?

A. I don't remember if I did. Yes, I saw him in the store.

Q. You saw him there with this Joseph Ahmann?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know what the name of Joseph Ahmann's wife was?

A. I do not.

Q. Did you know her?

A. No, I don't remember her.

Q. I guess that's all. (No answer.) (Record pp. 23-24.)

Q. Where do you live, Mr. Edelbrock?

A. Melrose.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. Thirty years.

Q. How much?

A. About thirty.

Q. Do you know Mr. John J. Ahmann?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The contestee in this proceeding. How long have you known him, sir?

A. Well, between twenty-nine and thirty years; about twenty-nine.

Q. Did you know him when he first came to this part of the country?

A. I couldn't say that, but I knew him in '81.

Q. Did he work for you at one time?

A. How?

Q. Did he work for you at one time?

A. No.

Q. Did he work for any company or in any store that you were connected with?

A. He worked in the same store I did.

Q. Were you working in that store also?

A. Yes.

Q. How long did you work together in that store?

A. Don't exactly remember; about a year, I guess.

Q. What was the store?

A. What is it?

Q. What was the store?

A. General merchandise, Melrose.

Q. Whose store was it?

A. At first it was J. H. Edelbrock's, my cousin's; and afterwards was William Bohmer.

Q. Did you while you were working in that store with Mr. Ahmann have conversations with him about Germany?

A. Yes.

Q. Did he tell you how old he was when he came over from Germany?

A. Possibly he did, but I don't remember him saying that exactly.

Mr. Brower: I object to that as assuming a state of facts not shown by the testimony.

Q. He did tell you, did he, that he came to this country from Germany?

Mr. Brower. Just a moment; I object to that upon the ground that it is leading, and I submit to your honors that any conversations should be detailed by the witness and not by counsel.

Q. Well, I think, following the last answer, the objection is done away with; but put it the other way; what if anything, did Mr. Ahmann say to you during the time that you were working together in that store, about his coming to this country from Germany?

A. He said that he had been here about six years or eight, I couldn't say positively which.

Q. Did he say where he came from?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did he say he came from?

A. He came from Marl, province of Westphalen, Germany.

Q. Did he mention the name of the village or town that he came from?

A. Well, Marl; that was what we called.

Q. Is that a town, Marl?

A. Well, I couldn't say what it is.

Q. Is Marl what is called a parish?

A. I suppose so, still I couldn't say even that.

Q. Did he ever mention to you anything of a place called Lippe?

A. Lippe, I don't remember.

Q. Did he, in the course of your intimacy with him during that year, tell you where he was born?

A. He didn't say where he was born, but he said he came from there.

Q. Did you know the mother of John J. Ahmann?

A. Oh, by sight, yes.

Q. Do you know what her name was?

A. No.

Q. You don't know what her first name was?

A. No.

Q. You knew Joseph Ahmann, did you?

A. Yes, the old man.

Q. Yes?

A. Yes.

Q. And is there a brother and a sister of John J. Ahmann living in this county.

A. Yes.

Q. That you know of. You know them both?

A. How?

Q. Do you know them?

A. Yes.

Q. During the time that you and John J. Ahmann were working together in this store, did his father ever come there?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Have you ever seen him with his father anywhere?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. And who was his father?

A. How?

Q. Who was his father?

Mr. Brower: We admit that Joseph Ahmann was the father of John J. Ahmann.

Q. Well, the Joseph Ahmann who is admitted to be the father of John J. Ahmann is the Joseph Ahmann who lived in this county, is he not?

A. In this county?

Q. In this county?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you know at the time when Joseph Ahmann was naturalized?

A. No.

Q. He never said anything to you about the time that he took out his—

A. No, not that I remember.

Q. Final papers?

A. No.

Q. Whereabouts in this county did Joseph Ahmann live, Mr. Edelbrock?

A. Richmond.

Q. Did you know of John J. Ahmann's either living with Joseph Ahmann at any time in Richmond, or going there to visit him—visit the folks at home?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Did he speak to you about Joseph Ahmann as his father?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Did he ever tell you whether he came to this country with his father?

A. Well, not definitely; he only said—

Mr. Brower: Just give his words, Mr. Edelbrock.

Q. As near as you can, give the words, but if you don't remember, give the substance.

A. No, whether they came together, I don't know.

Q. Well, you can give the substance, if you don't know the words.

Mr. Brower: He says that he never said anything to him about coming together.

Q. Well, what do you recall? You were about to say something I think when Mr. Brower interrupted. What do you recall of John J.'s saying in regard to his coming to this country with his father; in that connection?

A. Well, I took it that he came together, the family came to this country.

Q. The whole family?

A. Yes.

Q. Was that the whole family, these three children; John J. and the brother and sister; or were there other children?

Mr. Brower: I submit it is not the impression the witness gathered; it is the statements that were made.

Mr. Jackson: But this is a question of his knowledge.

Mr. Brower: True, but it is a question where conversation is what both sides are asking for.

Q. You may answer the question?

A. Yes, there is some more brothers.

Q. Where are they living; are they living now?

A. Around Richmond, as much as I know, and St. Martin.

Q. How many brothers?

A. I think there was four of them that I know of.

Q. And I ask you whether or not they were all known in the community as the sons of Joseph Ahmann?

A. Yes.

Q. Did Ahmann talk German with you?

A. How is that?

Q. Did John J. Ahmann ever talk in German with you?

A. Oh, yes, I couldn't talk anything else then.

Q. Did he say anything as to his being a German?

A. Well, I wouldn't say that he ever had any necessity of telling me that he was German, so he probably never mentioned that fact.

Q. But you knew that he was, did you?

A. Yes.

Q. That's all.

(No answer.)

Cross-Examination.

By Mr. Brower:

Q. Mr. Edelbrock, did you take it that they came together?

A. How is that?

Q. You said in answer to counsel's question that you—something as follows: "I took it that they came together." That is what you—

A. Well, I took it that way.

Q. Yes; did John Ahmann ever tell you that he came with his father to Stearns county?

A. That is specifically mention that, no.

Q. No, I understood you to say that he never told you where he was born?

A. No, he didnt' tell me where he was born.

Q. No, that's all.

(No answer.)

Re-Direct Examination.

By Mr. Jackson:

Q. Mr. Edelbrock, do you remember whether John Armann ever told you anything about the voyage, his voyage over, any incidents of his crossing the ocean?

A. I don't remember anything about it.

Q. Don't remember his ever talking about that?

A. No.

Q. Now, you said in answer to Mr. Brower's question that you didn't remember his saying anything about coming to Stearns county with the rest of the family, but you say you got the impression some way, you took it that he did come to this country, to the United States, with the rest of the family?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you able to recall how or from what remarks you got that impression?

A. Well, because he said, we came from such and such a place, so and so long ago.

Q. The place that you refer to was Marl?

A. Yes.

Q. I think that's all.

(No answer.)

Mr. Brower: No further questions; that's all, Mr. Edelbrock.

B. SCHULTENOVER,

produced as a witness on behalf of the contestant, being first duly sworn, and examined by Mr. Jackson, testified as follows:

Q. Where do you live, Mr. Schultenover?

A. Melrose.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. About twenty years; something around twenty years.

Q. Were you born in this country?

A. I am born in the old country.

Q. Whereabouts?

A. They call it Minister, Westphalen.

Q. Minster, Westphalen. Do you know where Marl is?

A. I know pretty near, not exactly.

Q. Are you related to the Ahmann family?

A. That is what they say, yes.

Q. And what is the relationship?

A. I am cousin to Mr. Ahmann.

Q. And is it that your father and his father were brothers—or your mother?

A. My father and his mother was sister and brother.

Q. Do you remember the name of Mrs. Ahmann, the mother of John J.?

A. No, not the first name; I was a boy when they went away.

Q. What is it?

A. I say I was a boy when they went away.

Q. What is it?

A. I say I was a boy when they went away to this country.

Q. You were a boy when they went away?

A. Yes, I was a boy when they went away.

Q. You mean?

A. I say I can't remember it.

Q. No, I know, but I didn't quite catch your answer; did you come to this country before the Ahmanns or after?

A. No, Ahmanns came before me.

Q. You knew them in the old country, did you not?

A. No, not what I know of, I didn't know John; I knowed the first boy, Henry; that is a brother; know him.

Q. How old are you, Mr.—

A. I am around fifty.

Q. Well, Mr. John J. Ahmann's mother, then, was your aunt?

A. That is what they say; I can't tell.

Q. Now, do you know whether her name was Magdalena?

Mr. Brower: He says he didn't know.

A. I don't know.

Q. Well, as a child you knew what her name was, didn't you?

Witness shakes his head.

Mr. Brower: He says no.

A. No.

Q. As a child in Germany, did you know Joseph Ahmann, the father of John J.?

A. No, before we went back to the old country again he was to the United States about nine or ten or twelve years, and they went out to the old country again, and I come in with the old man, my uncle.

Q. How old were you when you came to this country?

A. I was about twenty-two.

Q. And you came here with Joseph Ahmann?

A. Yes.

Q. He had been over here and had returned to Germany and you came back with him. Was that the way of it?

A. Yes.

Q. You have known John J. Ahmann ever since you came here, haven't you?

A. How?

Q. You have known John J. Ahmann?

A. When I came here first I knew him, yes.

Q. And you have seen him quite often since then?

A. Yes.

Q. Talked with him a good deal?

A. Once in a while.

Q. Talk with him about the old country at all?

A. Not that I know.

Q. Not at all?

A. Oh, talked about child's talk; that's all that I know about it. I say I know him first, I knew him when I saw him in this country; talk over the old country what the children talk once in a while, from the old country; that's all I know about it.

Q. You talked child talk with him about the old country more or less, isn't that what you say?

A. Oh, once in while.

Q. Well, now you were not such a very young child; you were twenty-two years old and he was older than you, wasn't he?

A. I don't know.

Q. Well, didn't you know; didn't you ever compare ages with him?

A. No.

Q. In your conversations with John J. Ahmann you spoke about the place where you were born and lived as a child, I suppose, did you?

A. I can't tell; not what I remember.

Q. And did he talk to you about the place where he was born and lived as a child?

A. No, not what I know of.

Q. Not at all?

Mr. Brower: Answer in words; you said no to that question, didn't you?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, Mr. Schultenover, you wish to testify positively that John J. Ahmann never told you where he was born?

A. No, he never did, not what I know.

Q. You knew where he was born, didn't you?

A. No, I don't know where it was, how can I prove where he was born; maybe he was born in a barn.

Q. Born where?

A. Maybe he was born in a barn or pasture.

Q. Yes, and maybe that barn was in Marl, too?

A. Yes, I don't know.

Mr. Brower: Now I object to that as a cross-examination of counsel's own witness.

Q. Now, on your voyage over to this country with Joseph Ahmann?

A. Yes, that is what I did.

Q. Didn't you learn from him where he had lived in the old country?

Mr. Brower: That is objected to; wait a moment.

A. No, I never did. From Bremen I went over to the ocean, or in the ditch somewheres with him.

Q. You didn't have very much conversation on the way over?

A. No.

Mr. Brower: He was watching the water.

The witness: I was watching the water, and the other things once in a while, but that's all I know; had good old country beer over there. Don't you put that down, though.

Q. When you first came over with Joseph Ahmann did you go to his house?

A. To the old man's house?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes.

Q. Ever see John J. there?

A. Not that first time; after a while I seen him, yes.

Q. Have you seen him there a good many times?

A. Yes, once in a while.

Q. Talk German with him, did you?

A. Sure, Low Deutsch.

Q. You knew, Mr. Schultenover, that John was a German boy, didn't you?

A. Sure, he was a German; he must be; he couldn't be no English, he couldn't talk it himself.

Q. You know that he was born in Germany?

A. That is what I think; I don't know. I can't prove where he was born, I told you before.

Q. Well, that is an understanding in the family?

Mr. Brower: Objected to as calling for the conclusion; the witness has already stated he didn't know where he was born.

Q. Now then, that was the talk in the family, that John was born in Germany?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it not; yes?

A. Talking way all over, I can't prove. I wasn't there when he was born.

Q. Have you heard your mother speak of visiting the—visiting Joseph Ahmann's family at their home in Germany?

Mr. Brower: Just a moment.

A. I guess my mother don't know him at all.

Mr. Brower: No; the objection is withdrawn.

Q. Did your mother live in Germany?

A. She lived in Germany, yes, and she died when she was young; she was about twenty years old; she died before they left to this country.

Q. Your brother was the brother of Joseph Ahmann's wife, as I understand it?

A. That is what they say, yes.

Q. Do you know of his visiting the Joseph Ahmann family in Germany?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. How far did you live from Marl?

A. About seventy-five eighty miles.

Q. Did you ever go to Marl; were you ever in Marl?

A. I did once, yes.

Q. Did you go to the house of Joseph Ahmann there in Marl?

A. Not what I know of; I never did; I was a little boy at that time when I went out.

Q. Well, didn't you go to visit your uncle Joseph Ahmann there?

A. Not what I know of.

Q. You don't know whether you did or not; is that it?

A. Yes, I believe I know I did not.

Q. But you know that he lived there in Marl at the time?

A. No, I don't know that either.

Q. How old were you at that time?

A. Well, maybe was seven or eight years old.

Q. What year was it that you came to the United States, Mr.?

A. In '82 or '83, something like that.

Q. I think you may examine. (No answer.)

Cross-Examination:

By Mr. Brower:

Q. The first time you remember of seeing Joseph Ahmann was when you came to this county on board ship with him?

A. Yes.

Q. Your understanding was that he had returned from the United States to Germany and was then returning home to Stearns County when you came with him?

A. Yes.

Q. You did not know John Ahmann at any time before coming to Stearns County, or Joseph Ahmann his father?

A. No, I never did, only my uncle told me.

Q. Not what he told you, but did you know him?

A. No.

Q. You came here in '82 or '3?

A. Yes.

Q. When you came here you went to the Ahmann home in Stearns County?

A. I did.

Q. And when you got there I understood you to say that John Ahmann, the contestee, was not there, but he came after a while?

A. Came after a while, yes.

Q. Yes. Now John Ahmann never told you where he was born?

A. No, not what I remember.

Q. No. That's all. (No answer.)

(Record pp. 42-51 inclusive.)

We submit that this evidence conclusively shows a failure to prove the necessary allegations that the contestee was born in Germany, or to prove the place of his birth at all.

"Evidence of alienage should be clear and conclusive."

2 Cyc. 88;

Jones vs. McCoy, 3 Tex. 349.

Your Committee is of the opinion, as above mentioned, that this evidence, not only fails to be clear and conclusive, but utterly fails to be proof of the fact sought to be proved.

During the taking of the testimony before the justices, contestee was called by contestants, placed upon the stand, sworn and interrogated as to his place of birth, date of birth, father's and mother's names, and many other questions, to all of which contestee refused to respond under advice of counsel, and for the reason that his answers might tend to subject him to a penalty or a forfeiture. (See p. 12 of the record, et seq.)

"Forfeiture" is defined to be the loss of some right, estate, office or effects by an offense, etc., and is the equivalent of penalty, so the deprivation of an office is a penalty. State ex rel. Reid vs. Walbridge, 24 S. W. 457; 41 Am. St. Rep. 663.

The words "penalty" and "forfeiture," as used in the statutes, are generally used synonymously. See Butler vs. Butler, 40 S. E. (S. C.) 138-142. Some cases hold that a forfeiture is usually a penalty though a penalty is not necessarily a forfeiture. See 7 S. W. 778; also 22 S. W. (Tex.) p. 66.

By the great weight of authority, a witness has the right and the privilege to refuse to answer questions which may tend to subject him, not only to a criminal prosecution, but also to refuse to answer questions which tend to subject him to a penalty or a forfeiture. 30 Am. & Eng. Ency. of Law, 2nd Ed., p. 1156; Simmons vs. Holster, 13 Minn. 249; Evans vs. O'Connor, 75 Am. St. Rep. 323, and note; Conn. Life Ins. Co. vs. Akens, 150 U. S. 476; Boyd vs. U. S., 116 U. S. 616. This applies not only to criminal actions, but to civil actions as well. Boyd vs. U. S., supra.

The question arises with the Committee as to whether Senator Ahmann in refusing to answer questions propounded to him by counsel for contestants is protected by the rule above set forth in view of the definition of the word "forfeiture" hereinbefore recited. Would the fact that by answering said questions Senator Ahmann would be deprived of his state office and the emoluments thereof come within the rule? The question is not free from doubt, but this Committee believes that the doubt should be resolved in favor of Senator Ahmann. Your Committee is clear, however, that he is privileged from answering upon another ground.

Sec. 359 of the Minnesota Election Law provides as follows:

"Every person who causes or attempts to cause his name to be registered in any district knowing that he is not a qualified voter thereof, shall be guilty of a felony."

Section 360 of the Minnesota Election Law provides as follows:

"Every person not being a qualified voter who votes at any election with unlawful intent shall be guilty of a felony."

Sec. 25, Art. 4, of the Constitution of Minnesota, provides:

"That Senators shall be qualified voters of the state," etc.

Sec. 7 of Art. 1 of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota provides that no person shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.

When it reasonably appears that the answer will have a tendency to expose the witness to a penal liability or to any kind of punishment or to a criminal charge, the authorities are exceedingly clear that the witness is not bound to answer.

If the fact about which he is interrogated forms but one link in the chain of the testimony which is to convict him, he is protected. Simmons vs. Holster, 13 Minn. (Gil.) 236.

To entitle a party called as a witness to the privilege of silence, the court must see from the circumstances of the case and the nature of the evidence which the witness is called to give, that there is reasonable ground to apprehend danger to the witness from his being compelled to answer, and when such reasonable apprehension of danger appears, then inasmuch as the witness alone knows the nature of the answer he will give, he alone must decide whether it would criminate him. State vs. Thaden, 32 Minn. 356.

The constitutional guarantee not only protects him personally from being compelled to give direct evidence tending to establish his guilt, but also from giving any circumstances or link in the chain of evidence which may tend to convict him of the crime. State vs. Gardner, 88 Minn. 130.

It is true that the evidence does not show that Senator Ahmann voted at the last election, but it is a well known fact that Senator Ahmann held the office of Senator during the 35th and 36th sessions of the Minnesota State Legislature from said district, and that at the election for said office in November, 1910, he was elected and duly qualified for said office. It is fair to this Committee to presume that Senator Ahmann at the last and previous elections exercised the right of suffrage.

The case of Kelly's Contested Election, 200 Pa. St. 430, cited upon the hearing by counsel for contestants, does not apply to the facts in this case for the reason that in that case the witness could not refuse to testify because the statute under which he was being prosecuted specifically provided that he had no such privilege, but must testify even if the evidence given by him did tend to subject him to a criminal prosecution. The other cases cited by contestants are not directly in point.

For the reasons above given this Committee is of the opinion that Senator Ahmann had the right to refuse to answer the questions propounded to him by contestants' counsel.

We have made reference above to the failure of contestants to prove the age of the contestee. Proof of this fact is relied upon by contestants by Exhibits Nos. 8, 9 and 10. Exhibit No. 8 is a petition in the probate court of Stearns county, Minnesota, signed by the contestee for the probate of his father's will. In this petition the names, ages and places of residence of the heirs and devisees of the deceased are given, so far as known to the petitioner. Exhibit No. 9 is a petition in said estate signed by the contestee for license to sell real estate in said estate. In it appear the names and ages of the heirs and devisees of said decedent, including the contestee, the same not being required by law.

Exhibit No. 10 is of the same nature and for the same purpose as Exhibit No. 9.

Your Committee is of the opinion that the recital of the contestee's age in these exhibits is no proof of the age of contestee. These petitions were not made for the purpose of proving the ages of any of the heirs; nor was a correct statement of the ages of said heirs and devisees necessary or required. Such instruments can only be evidence of the matters for which they are intended, and mere recitals therein are not binding upon any one, including the petitioner. That an instrument is only evidence of the facts for which it was intended, see Houlton vs. Manteuffel, 51 Minn. 185; in which a certificate of baptism was offered to prove the date of birth and fact of birth. The court say:

"Assuming that the certificate of defendant's baptism issued by his church would have been admissible as an official entry or registry to prove the fact and date of his baptism, it was not competent to prove his age or the date of his birth."

To one having knowledge of the manner in which petitions in the probate court in the estates of decedents are prepared, the inattention and lack of care given to the statement of the ages of the heirs and devisees, it approaches the degree of ridiculousness to say that such statements as to ages are conclusive upon any one. In the case at bar, it is shown that the petitions were prepared by contestee's attorney, not by the contestee himself.

The contestants introduced evidence to show that Joseph Ahmann, claimed by them to be the father of the contestee, declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States on the 18th day of February 1876 (Exhibit 12) and completed said citizenship and became a full citizen on the 14th day of June, 1881 (Exhibit No. 13).

Your Committee believes that there is no sufficient proof that the contestee was the son of Joseph Ahmann naturalized by Exhibits 12 and 13, and as before stated, no proof that the contestee was born abroad, and even if there were competent proof of these facts, yet contestants have failed to make out a case for the reason that there is no showing and no proof of the age of contestee, and it is not shown that he was not a minor on June 14, 1881, when the naturalization of Joseph Ahmann was completed. See Schuster vs. State, 80 Wis. 107, 49 N. W. 30.

Syllabus: "A juror testified that he was a citizen of the United States. The only evidence to the contrary was that he had stated he came to this country from England and had never completed his naturalization. It was not shown that his parents during his minority had not become naturalized. Held: That his incompetency was not established"; and in the opinion it was held that

"it was incumbent upon the plaintiff in error to negative the existence of the conditions above suggested."

The case at bar is even a stronger case, for here the naturalization of the father is affirmatively shown—the age of the contestee is not shown. He is presumed to be a citizen. It would be a violent presumption for this Committee without proof to presume that the contestee was over age when Joseph Ahmann was naturalized, assuming that Joseph Ahmann was his father.

Your Committee believes for the reasons set forth, and agreeably to the authorities cited, that contestants have failed to make out a case against the contestee. Alienage must be proved by clear and conclusive proof as shown by the authorities above cited. The question of a man's citizenship is too sacred a one to be trifled with by slight proof or interfered with by presumptions not warranted.

Your Committee therefore recommends the granting of, and so far as in its power to do so, grants the motion of the contestee for a dismissal of these proceedings, and recommends the following resolution:

Resolved, That the contestee, John J. Ahmann, is entitled to a seat in the Senate of the State of Minnesota, Thirty-seventh Session, as the Senator duly elected from the Fifty-fourth Senatorial District of the State of Minnesota, and that he be seated as such Senator from said district in said body.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, IN THE SENATE OF MINNESOTA.

A. D. STEPHENS, Contestant,

vs.

JOHN SAUGSTAD, Contestee.

UNANIMOUS REPORT.

The undersigned, The Committee on Elections of the Senate, State of Minnesota, Thirty-seventh Session, to which was referred the contest proceedings above entitled, submits the following report:

STATEMENT.

At the primary election held on the 20th day of September, 1910, the contestant and the contestee were candidates for the Republican nomination for Senator from the Sixty-second Senatorial District, composed of Polk County, Minnesota. The contestant was successful in this contest and was by the proper election officers duly declared the Republican nominee for Senator from said district, and his name placed upon the official ballot in that capacity to be voted upon at the general election held November 8th, 1910. The name of H. C. Larum appeared on said ballot as Public Ownership candidate for Senator. At said general election the contestee, John Saugstad, was voted for by stickers, and upon a count of the ballot and canvass of the vote, was declared elected as Senator from said district by a plurality of more than two hundred votes. He was given a certificate of election in accordance therewith, which certificate has been filed with this Senate, has taken the oath of office as Senator, and is now occupying a seat as Senator in this body.

Within the time and manner prescribed by law, the contestant instituted a contest for said Senatorial seat for the reasons specified in his notice of contest, which reasons are substantially these: 1st: that contestee was not eligible to election to the Senate, having been a candidate for the Republican nomination at the primaries immediately preceding the election; 2nd: that mistakes were made by the election officers in the counting of the ballots, whereby the contestant was not credited with the full number of ballots cast for him; and that contestee was credited with more votes than were cast for him; 3rd: irregularities, disorder and violence at some of the polling places in said district which prevented voters from casting ballots for contestant. Testimony was taken before justices of the peace, as provided by law, and a record made of the same, which record was forwarded to this Senate and by it delivered to your committee for consideration, which record is herewith returned. A recount of the ballots was had in said contest proceedings, the result of which appears in said record.

This matter came on for hearing before your Committee on Elections Wednesday evening, January 25th, 1911, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., Hon. E. P. Sanborn and Judge W. B. Douglas of St. Paul, Minnesota, and G. A. Finlayson of East Grand Forks, Minnesota, appearing for contestant, and O'Brien, Young & Stone of St. Paul, Minnesota, and A. A. Miller and W. A. Marin of Crookston, Minnesota, appearing for the contestee. After hearing counsel for both sides in said matter, and after carefully reading the record in said matter and the authorities cited by counsel, your committee finds the following facts relative to said contest, and arrives at the following conclusions of law:

That contestant and contestee were both candidates for the Republican nomination for Senator in the Sixty-second Senatorial District; that contestee was successful at the primary election and duly became the Republican nominee for Senator for said district; that his name was properly placed on the official election ballot in that capacity to be voted for and he was so voted for at the general election November 8th, 1910, in said district; that upon a recount of the ballots pursuant to the order of the court in said contest proceedings the following undisputed facts were found to be true:

The inspectors awarded to contestant 2,761 votes and to contestee 2,575 votes. Contestant claims an additional vote of 17 for ballots specified in his brief at pages 5 and 6. This contestee does not dispute and while there is doubt about 3 of these ballots being counted for contestant, inasmuch as contestee does not dispute the same, we have awarded the same to contestant, making him a total of 2,778 votes. This is all the votes contestant claims and is all the votes your committee can find that he is entitled to. In addition to the 2,575 votes awarded to contestee by the inspectors, there are 6 which contestant concedes should be counted for contestee. These are specified on page 6, contestant's brief, and your committee is of the opinion that they should be so counted. This gives the contestee 2,581 votes.

It is conceded by both sides, and borne out by the record, that 256 ballots were not counted for either party and should not be counted for either party. The record warrants this conclusion. It is claimed by contestee that 120 of these ballots have stickers upon them bearing the name of John Saugstad placed on said ballot at some place other than the square reserved for the Senatorial candidates. No claim is made by either party that these ballots should be counted, and they are not counted for either party.

Two printed records have been furnished for the convenience of the committee and the Senate in this matter; one known as contestant's record and the other as contestee's record, bearing the title on the back thereof of "Abstract of Testimony." The disputed ballots and ballots not counted by the inspectors appear at pages 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of contestant's record. At the hearing, contestee stated that the figures given in contestant's record were correct and should be so considered by your committee and by the Senate. These disputed ballots have been classed in groups by both parties. On the bottom of page 3, contestant's record, the first group of disputed ballots are 98 stickers with the name John Saugstad thereon appearing in the proper blank space in the square reserved for Senatorial candidates on the ballots in question but which have no cross mark opposite thereto in the proper place. These 98 ballots are by your committee counted for contestee, and there can seem to be no question that your committee is warranted in doing so. The rules for counting such ballots are plainly laid down by our statute, Subdivision 3, Section 275, Revised Laws 1905, reading as follows:

"When he (the voter) so desires, he may write other names in the blank spaces under the printed names of the candidate, and the name so written shall be counted as balloted for whether marked in the small square or not."

This statutory provision is very plain in itself, but we are not without judicial construction. Contestant claims that for a vote to count when appearing this blank space without a cross mark it must be written, and that when a sticker is used, a cross is necessary because the name is not written. The question seems to have been concluded against contestant's position by the late case of Snortum vs. Homme, 106 Minn. 464, in which the precise question of whether a sticker with a name thereon complied with the statutory provision of writing the name in said space, was considered and decided, the court there holding that such sticker was a compliance with the statute above mentioned, and further specifically holding that such a sticker was writing itself, saying, at page 467:

"So construing it, the words 'writing' or 'written' as used therein include any mode of representing words or letters as provided by Section 5514 R. L 1905, Subdv. 24."

"Therefore our construction of the statute here in question is that it gives to a voter who desires to vote for a person other than whose name is on the official ballot the right to express the name of the person for whom he intends to vote by writing or putting his name in the blank space, and further that if he intends to avail himself of the latter method, he may provide himself before going into the booth with and use a printed or typewritten name of his choice on adhesive paper, that is, with so-called paster or sticker." Subdivision 24 of Section 5514 Revised Laws 1905 referred to by the court reads as follows:

"The words 'written' and 'in writing' may include any mode of representing words and letters" * * *

A further statutory rule for counting ballots of the character now under consideration will be found at Subdivision 2, Section 302, Revised Laws 1905:

"2. When a voter has written the name of a person in the proper place, his vote shall be counted for such person, whether he makes a mark opposite thereto or not."

It is difficult to see how the counting of these 98 ballots for contestee can be questioned.

The next group of disputed ballots is 112 stickers with the name John Saugstad thereon over the name A. D. Stephens and with a cross marked opposite thereto in the proper places, and 8 stickers with exactly the same conditions existing thereto, except that they were over the name of the candidate, H. C. Larum. These 120 stickers may be considered together, as the same rules apply to both those stuck over the name Stephens and those stuck over the name Larum. These two groups of stickers appear in contestant's record on page 3. Your committee has counted these 120 ballots for contestee. It is claimed by contestant that these ballots should not be counted, in fact, that a sticker should not be counted for the contestee unless it appears in the blank space reserved for that purpose. The rules laid down by our Supreme Court and particularly in the very late decision of Erickson vs. Paulson, 111 Minn. 336, is in direct variance with contestant's position, and would seem to conclude this matter. This case was decided in July, 1910. In the opinion, several ballots referred to as exhibits are described, considered, and the rule laid down as to whether they should be counted or not. On page 337, the court establishes the following rule: In Exhibit L, the same kind of a sticker was placed over the name of S. Paulson and two cross marks made in the space to the right, one opposite the sticker and one in the vacant space below. The court holds that by placing a sticker over the name Paulson and marking it with a cross, the voter expressed the intention to vote for Erickson and the ballot should have been counted for him, and on page 538, Exhibit O, similar to Exhibit L, should have been counted and again Exhibits Q, R, S and T are similar to Exhibits O and L, and should have been counted for Erickson. Of course, the cross opposite the vacant space on the ballot has no bearing upon the question now being determined. For a proper understanding of the case of Erickson vs. Paulson, it must be understood that Paulson was the regular name upon the ballot and Erickson was the name appearing upon the stickers.

Ballots of the character of the last 120 considered are not specifically provided for in the statute. The court in this case, Erickson vs. Paulson, considers this feature, and says at the bottom of page 338:

"The meaning of sub-division 3, section 275, R. L. 1905, is that when a new name is introduced upon the blank space under the printed names it shall be counted, whether marked in the small square or not. This subdivision must be read in connection with the rules, as defined by section 302, the first part of which reads: 'All ballots shall be counted for the persons for whom they were intended, so far as such intent can be clearly ascertained from the ballots themselves, and in determining such intent the following rules shall be observed"—stating nine rules. By these rules the intention of the voter may be ascertained, but it does not necessarily follow that they entirely cover the subject. The statute does not declare that no ballot shall be counted unless it comes within one of the provisions of these rules. Nor does it prohibit the pasting of another name over the printed name on the ballot. That form of substitution with a mark opposite shows the intent of the voter to vote for the party substituted as effectually as though he had written the name in the blank space."

Mr. Saugstad was conceded to have 2581 votes other than these disputed ballots, and we have now added thereto the first group of 98 of those considered and the second and third groups of 112 and 8 respectively. He would now have 2799 votes or a plurality of 21 over Mr. Stephens.

The next group of disputed ballots, 20 in number, are stickers with the name John Saugstad thereon pasted over the name A. D. Stephens, but there was no cross mark made opposite thereto. The committee is of the opinion that these should also be counted for John Saugstad for the following reason. Revised Laws 1905, section 5514, subdivision 24, defines the word "writing" as follows:

"The words 'written' and 'in writing' may include any mode of representing words and letters."

In the case of Snortum vs. Homme, 106 Minn. 464, the court construes the word "write" as follows:

"The words 'write' and 'written' as used in the statute include any mode of representing words or letters and that the voter may provide himself before going into the booth with and use the printed or typewritten name on adhesive paper, that is, with the so-called paster or sticker." Section 302, Revised Laws 1905, subdivision 2, provides:

"When a voter has written the name of a person in the proper place his vote shall be counted for such person whether he makes a mark (X) opposite thereto or not."

This language of the statute might seem to imply that the proper place for writing the name would be in the blank space, but under the decision in Erickson vs. Paulson, the court seems to hold that any of the spaces for senator are the proper places. If placing a sticker over the name A. D. Stephens on the ballot in question with an "X" in the opposite square is a proper place, which the court holds in the case last above cited, then by placing the name John Saugstad in that place either on a sticker or by writing it would also be a proper place following the reasoning of the court.

This gives contestee 2819 votes or a plurality of 41.

Your committee for the reasons given above and hereinafter do not count the following ballots: The ballot mentioned at the top of page 4, contestant's record, as we are unable to understand just how the sticker appears on the ballot, and we also have not counted for either party those described in line 3 on page 4, contestant's record, being 3 stickers pinned on and having a proper cross mark. We do count for the contestee those mentioned in the second line on page 4, contestant's record, 10 stickers with the name John Saugstad thereon in the proper blank space and crossed. There is no importance, in the opinion of your committee, in the fact that these stickers were upside down. We also count the ballots mentioned on line 4 on said page 4, being 5 stickers in the proper place, properly crossed, and the cross mark opposite the name Larum erased. There can be no question about such a ballot being counted under sub-division 8, section 302, Revised Laws 1905. We do not count the group mentioned in line 5, of said page 4 for the reason that it appears that there were two candidates voted for; nor do we count the two ballots shown on line 6 nor the one ballot shown on line 7. We count for contestee the 23 ballots in line 8 on page 4, in which the only complaint seems to be that the sticker bore only the name Saugstad and not the name John. Our statute seems to have covered this matter in sub-division 5, section 302, Revised Laws 1905, and in the case of Newell vs. Newton, 26 Minn. 529, where at page 540 the court specifically holds that a ballot for Newell simply without any Christian name or initial thereon should be counted for Frank E. Newell. This gives contestee 2857 votes or a plurality over contestant of 79.

We now consider the group of votes which were written in the proper blank space, most of which were crossed, and the particular conditions relative to each ballot appearing in the description of said ballots on pp. 4, 5, 6, and 7, contestant's record, which like the ballots heretofore considered, may be understood by reference to the key appearing on pages 2 and 3 of said record. Of these ballots we have refused to count for either party the following: line 32, p. 4; the group in line 2 of page 5; lines 4, 11, 12, 13, 15, 21, 22, 23, 26 and 29 of page 5; lines 8, 11, 16, 19, 20, 23, 24, 26, 27, 29, 31 and 32 of page 6; lines 3, 4, 5, 7, and 9 of page 7. All other ballots described on pages 4, 5, 6 and 7 of said record commencing at line 9 on said page 4 are counted for the contestee herein, which number we make 123. This completes the count of disputed ballots and gives contestee 2980 ballots or a plurality over contestant of 202.

The 123 ballots last counted for contestee are so counted agreeably to the statutory rule laid down in sub-division 5, section 302, Revised Laws 1905, which is as follows:

"The judges shall disregard misspelling or abbreviations of the names of candidates if it can be clearly ascertained from the ballot for whom it was intended."

In Newell vs. Newton, id, at page 540, the rule is stated that the test of idem sonans should be applied in determining the intention of the voter when the name is misspelled, saying at page 541:

"So if to designate the person voted for letters are used which do not properly spell the name Newell but do spell a word which is idem sonans, this would be counted," and holding that Nuton and Newton should be counted for the name John Newton.

In applying the doctrine of idem sonans, your committee believes it has the right to take into consideration the matter of pronunciation of a foreign name. It appears from this record that the name John Saugstad is a Norwegian name and that there are many dialects among the Norwegians themselves by which the name is pronounced in different manners; also that it is spelled much differently. This discrepancy of pronunciation and spelling is enhanced when the attempt is made to convert it into English pronunciation and spelling. All of this appears from the testimony of the witness J. C. Sathre, whose testimony appears on p. 130, contestant's Abstract of Testimony, and it appears that there is a large Norwegian population in said district and that no other person of identical or similar name ran for office in said district. (For rule construing foreign dialects see Gunn vs. Hubbard, 97 Mo. 311, 10 Am. St. Rep. 312.)

ELIGIBILITY.

The contention is made by contestant that contestee was ineligible to the office of State Senator from said district because he had been a candidate for the Republican nomination at the primaries and was defeated. The provision of our statute covering a disqualification of the defeated candidate at the primaries from having his name placed on the ballot as an independent candidate at the subsequent election is section 213, Revised Laws 1905.

"A defeated candidate at the primary election shall be ineligible for nomination for the same office under the provisions of this section";

the section in question being the one providing for the nomination of a candidate by petition. It will be noted that the statute does not declare that such candidate is totally ineligible for the office. It only says that he is ineligible for the nomination for the same office and under the provisions of that particular section. This is not without judicial construction. In the case of State vs. Moore, 87 Minn. 308, the court clearly pointed out the difference between statutory eligibility and the right to have one's name printed on the official ballot as an independent candidate, and concluding in this language:

"While he cannot have his name printed because he has for supposed benefits surrendered that right he is still eligible and may aspire to the office, invite his fellow citizens to vote for him in the blank space provided for and secure the office if he can obtain the requisite support."

What could be more absolutely applicable and pertinent to the question of eligibility raised in this case than the language just above quoted? The case of State vs. Moore was one involving the eligibility of a defeated candidate at the primary election. In fact, it seems that one of the strong reasons of the Supreme Court in upholding the law which prevents a defeated candidate at the primaries from conducting a campaign by petition for the same office is the fact that this blank space is left in which the voter could vote for the very defeated candidate. Under the plain provisions of our constitution, consideration of the above statute and the decisions of our Supreme Court is perhaps unnecessary, for the provisions of our constitution as to eligibility of candidates is too plain to be misunderstood.

Section 7 of article 7 of our constitution is as follows:

"Every person who by the provisions of this article shall be entitled to vote at any election shall be eligible to any office which now is or hereafter shall be elective by the people in the district wherein he shall have resided thirty days previous to such election except as otherwise provided in this constitution or the constitution and laws of the United States."

It is not contended that this constitutional provision is in conflict with the constitution or laws of the United States. The legislature has enacted no law contrary to this constitutional provision as the section relative to defeated candidates at the primaries has been shown not to be in contravention of this section of our constitution, and that no such law could be enacted by our legislature that would be constitutional has been specifically held by our Supreme Court.

State vs. Clough, 23 Minn. 17.

State vs. Holman, 58 Minn. 219.

Your committee holds that there is absolutely no question about the eligibility of contestee for the office of State Senator involved in this contest.

IRREGULARITIES AT THE POLLS.

A careful reading of the record fails to disclose any irregularities at the polling places in this contest on election day. It simply discloses the ordinary condition of affairs in a heated election contest. No fraud is shown—not a voter is shown to have been prevented from voting—no intimidation is shown to have existed. As a question of fact it is conclusive that contestant has utterly failed to prove his contention of fraud and intimidation. The record discloses no difference in the attitude of the assembled voters at the polling places in Polk County from the attitude of the assembled voters in the precincts of any other county in the state where a heated controversy existed which was to be determined by the election on that day. That voting precincts should not be thrown out except for most potent reasons and flagrant violations of election laws, and when definitely shown to have affected the result, see Taylor vs. Taylor, 10 Minn. 107 (Gil. 81); Stemper vs. Higgins, 38

Minn. 222; State vs. Falk, 89 Minn. 269; Hanke vs. Brown, 82 Minn. 328. We will refrain from citing authorities from other states.

The law, the facts in this case, and common justice demand that no precincts be thrown out.

For the reasons above stated, your committee recommends that the contestee John Saugstad be allowed to retain his seat in the Senate and recommends the following resolution:

Resolved, That the contestee, John Saugstad, be entitled to a seat in the Senate of the State of Minnesota, Thirty-seventh session, as the Senator duly elected from the Sixty-second District of the State of Minnesota, and that he be seated as such Senator from said district in said body.

STATE OF MINNESOTA
IN THE SENATE OF MINNESOTA

MAJORITY REPORT.

RAY G. FARRINGTON,

Contestant,

vs.

S. J. FROSHAUG,

Contestee,

The undersigned Committee on Elections of the Senate, State of Minnesota, to which was referred the contest proceedings above entitled, submits the following report:

STATEMENT.

At the election held in November, 1910, contestant, Ray G. Farrington, was the democratic candidate for State Senator in the fifty-sixth senatorial district; S. J. Froshaug was the prohibitionist candidate; and T. J. McElligott the republican candidate. Upon count and canvass of the votes by the proper election officials, the said S. J. Froshaug was declared elected Senator from said district by a plurality of twenty-one votes. He was issued a certificate of election by the proper officers, has filed the same with the Senate, and is now occupying a seat in this body.

Within the time and manner provided by law, contestant instituted a contest for said senatorial seat for the reasons specified in his notice of contest, which reasons, while lengthy, are materially and substantially this: That mistakes were made by the election officers in the counting of the ballots, whereby the contestant was not credited with the full number of ballots cast for him and that contestee was credited with more votes than were cast for him. Testimony was taken before justices of the peace as provided by law, a record made of the same, which record with exhibits was forwarded to this Senate and by it delivered to your Committee for consideration. Upon request from this Committee and by authorization of the Senate, additional and supplemental testimony was taken by and before this committee, a record of which has been made, and which record together with the record made by the justices of the peace are herewith returned to the Senate.

A recount of the ballots was had in said contest proceedings pursuant to law, the result of which appears in said record, the inspectors being Jacob Foell, E. W. Hume and E. L. Thornton.

This matter came on for hearing first before your committee on Thursday, January 19, 1911, at two o'clock P. M., Hon. E. P. Sanborn of St. Paul, Minnesota, appearing for contestant, and Hon. C. A. Fosness of Montevideo, Minnesota, and Hon. Elias Rachie of Willmar, Minnesota, appearing for contestee. Pursuant to request and authorization of the Senate above referred to, the matter was again brought on for hearing before your committee on Friday, February 3rd, 1911, at two o'clock P. M. and again on Monday, February 6th, 1911, at ten o'clock A. M., and again on Wednesday, February 8th, 1911, at two o'clock P. M., the same attorneys appearing for contestant and contestee as at the first hearing.

At the first hearing on January 19th, 1911, contestee moved to dismiss these contest proceedings upon the ground and for the reason that notwithstanding contestant had duly served his notice of contest within fifteen days after the completion of the canvass as required by law, yet he had failed to fix a time for the taking of depositions and testimony within forty days after the election as provided by law. This district is composed of more than one county. The canvass of the vote is governed by section 323-4-5, Revised Laws 1905, which provides that such legislative canvass shall occur on the twentieth day after election. This contest was instituted pursuant to section 332, et seq. Revised Laws 1905, which gives contestant full fifteen days after the final canvass within which to institute his contest. Hence if contestant took the full period of time as he had a right to do, to institute his contest, then there would have elapsed thirty-five days after election. It would then be impossible for him to comply with the concluding sentence of said section 332, that his notice for taking testimony should be served upon the adverse party at least ten days before the time named therein for taking such testimony, as there would only be five days left of the forty-day period before provided in said section 332, which provision is that the time fixed for the taking of such testimony shall not be more than forty days after election. The statute is absolutely conflicting. The provision for instituting the contest within fifteen days after final canvass is clearly a mandatory provision, while the provision limiting the time within which testimony must be taken is simply directory, and evidently intended for the purpose of hastening contests and securing the taking and printing of testimony before the convening of the legislature before which such contests are to be heard; and of course when a mandatory and directory statute conflict, the directory statute must give way, and your committee holds that this contest was instituted within the proper time and in the proper manner, and denied the motion of contestee to dismiss said contest.

At the hearing on Monday, February 6th, 1911, the ballot box from the precinct of Ortonville, Big Stone County, Minnesota, with the original ballots therein, together with the tally sheets and other election papers, was produced by the legal custodian thereof and opened by your committee, and the ballots re-counted and examined.

At the hearing on Wednesday, February 8th, 1911, the ballot boxes with the original ballots therein, together with other papers pertaining to said election from the precincts of Graceville, Clinton and Odessa, all of Big Stone County, Minnesota, and the precinct of Edison township, Swift County, Minnesota, were produced by the legal custodians pursuant to subpoena, and were by your committee opened, the ballots re-counted and examined.

After hearing counsel for both sides in said matter, after carefully reading the record made by said justices and the record of the evidence taken before us, and having heard the witnesses produced and sworn before your committee, and after having carefully read the authorities cited by counsel, and after having carefully examined the contents of said ballot boxes on the re-count of said ballots, your committee finds the following facts relative to said contest and arrives at the following conclusions of law:

That contestant, contestee and T. J. McElligott were candidates for the office of State Senator for said Senatorial district at the last general election held in November, 1910; that upon the count and canvass of the vote therefor by the proper election officials, the said contestee was duly declared elected Senator from said district, and was given a proper certificate therefor, which certificate he has filed with this Senate and has taken the oath of office and is now occupying a seat as such Senator in this body; that the said judges of election in counting and canvassing said vote found and declared that the said contestee had a plurality of twenty-one votes over contestant; that a re-count was had in this contest as provided by law, and upon such re-count, contestant was found by the inspectors conducting said re-count to have a plurality of twenty-two votes over said contestee. That the original returns from the board of canvassers in showing a plurality of twenty-one for contestee over contestant found and declared that contestee had received 1,406 votes for said office of Senator and that contestant had received 1,385 votes—that the inspectors upon re-count in finding a plurality of twenty-two votes for contestant found that contestee had received 1,371 votes for the office of said state Senator and contestant had received 1393 votes.

If the re-count of said inspectors is correct and the ballots and ballot boxes have been kept as required by law and have not been tampered with, and no reasonable opportunity has existed for said ballots and ballot boxes to be tampered with, and if a proper affirmative showing has been made by contestant of these facts, it should be conceded that contestant was elected Senator from said district, but if the contrary appears, of course, the original finding and declaration in favor of contestee must prevail.

There were certified by said inspectors certain ballots as exhibits which were not counted for either party. Most of these ballots came from the five precincts in dispute and whether they should be considered at all depends upon whether the original count or the re-count in these precincts is allowed to prevail, but in any event these ballots cannot change the result. Your committee finds that eight of these disputed ballots should be counted for contestant and eight for contestee, and ten not counted at all; but as was said before, the disputed ballots coming from the five precincts in dispute, if the re-count is not allowed to prevail, should not be counted for either party. Exclusive of these disputed precincts, Froshaug would have a net gain of four.

The first proposition of law to which your Committee finds it necessary for the Senate and your Committee to consider is the rule relative to the proper care and keeping of ballots and ballot boxes, and showing necessary to be made by contestant for the re-count of the same to overcome the prima facie original returns of the proper election officials. It appears that there are forty-two precincts in this district, which district consists of Big Stone and Swift Counties, Minnesota. It further appears, and is conceded by both parties to this contest that no change was found by said re-count in any of the precincts in said district excepting the precincts of Edison in Swift County, and the precincts of Ortonville, Graceville, Clinton and Odessa in Big Stone County. Hence it becomes unnecessary to consider other precincts in this district.

BURDEN ON CONTESTANT TO SHOW PROPER CARE AND INTEGRITY OF BALLOTS.

There is an almost unanimity of authority that the burden rests upon contestant to affirmatively show as a foundation for admission of ballots in evidence that they have been so kept and preserved as to preclude any reasonable opportunity for tampering with the same, and must have been kept as required by law. If this showing is not made, the ballots cannot be used to overcome the prima facie returns of the original count made by the proper election officials. In the early case of Newell vs. Newton, 26 Minn. 529, the rule is laid down as follows:

"The ballots cast at an election may, in a proceeding of this nature, as in quo warranto, and information in the nature thereof be resorted to for the purpose of disputing the returns of the board of canvassers, and of investigating and ascertaining the actual state of the vote. But to entitle them to be used for these purposes, it must affirmatively appear that they have, in the language of section 18 of the election law, been 'carefully preserved.' They must have been so carefully preserved as to place of their identity beyond any reasonable doubt. If they have been so carelessly cared for as readily to afford frequent or continued opportunity to interested parties, or the friends of interested parties, to tamper with them and alter them, or add to or take from their number, unless all reasonable doubts as to their integrity are removed by an affirmative showing, the ballots are not entitled to be resorted to for the purposes mentioned."

This case has been re-affirmed in O'Gorman vs. Richter, 31 Minn. 30, and in Stemper vs. Miggins, 37 Minn. 95. See also 15 Cyc. 425; Moorehead vs. Arnold, 84 Pa. 742; Dook vs. Briggs, 116 N. W. 114 (Ia.); McCrary on Elections, Sec. 471, et seq.

Such is the rule in the courts, and citation of authorities affirming this rule might be multiplied. The rule seems to have been universally applied in contested congressional elections.

English vs. Hilbourne, 53 Cong. Rep. 614, p. 4. Mobley 167.

Butler vs. Lehman (minority report sustained by House), 37 Cong. 1 Bart 358.

Wallace vs. McKinley, Mobley 190 (210), 48 Cong.

Atkinson vs. Pendleton, 51st Cong. Rowell 47.

The case of English vs. Hilbourne, id, holds:

"It is well settled that before resort can be had to the ballots as means of proof, absolute proof must be made that the ballots offered are the identical ballots cast at the election; that they have been safely kept as required by law; that they are in the same condition they were when cast; that they have not been tampered with; and that no opportunity has been had to tamper with them. The burden rests upon the party seeking to use them."

The case of Butler vs. Lehman, id, lays down the rule:

"It is necessary for the contestant first to establish the identity of the ballot boxes, and secondly to show that the boxes have been so kept as to rebut any reasonable presumption that they have been tampered with."

Hence the important and controlling question in this contest is the care and keeping of the ballot boxes in the five precincts in question, and the opportunity or lack of opportunity for the same to have been tampered with. This is one of the cases in which one is met with conflicting presumptions. The first presumption of law in which your committee and this senate are entitled to indulge is the presumption that the election officials properly did their duty in the original count and canvass. There is a presumption, of course, that ballot boxes left in the custody of town clerks and village recorders who are made the legal custodians as provided by law, may be said to have been properly kept unless otherwise shown, where it appears that such ballot boxes were in the care and custody of the legal custodian. Each is a presumption of regular and honest conduct on the part of the election officials. The question arises in the case of such conflict of presumptions, which shall give way. Your Committee is of the opinion that the first presumption should be allowed to prevail.

This matter is admirably treated in McCrary on Elections, in which all the reasons seem to have been collated and set forth by him in section 475, where he says:

"Before the ballots should be allowed in evidence to overturn the official count and return, it should appear affirmatively that they have been safely kept by the proper custodian of the law—that they have not been exposed to the public or handled by unauthorized persons, and that no opportunity has been given for tampering with them. If this is believed to be a rule founded upon the presumption that a fraud or a crime has been committed, the answer is that the rule does no more than to make choice between two presumptions of law, which in this instance come in conflict, and cannot both prevail. In such a case the question is, which is the stronger, the more reasonable and the safer presumption? And inasmuch as the ballots are counted by the board of canvassers immediately upon the closing of the polls, and generally before there has been an opportunity for tampering, and when it cannot be known that the changing of a few votes will change the result, and in most cases by a board composed of friends of each of the competing candidates, it is believed that in the absence of all proof, in case of a conflict between the tally sheets and returns on one side, and the ballots as they are found to be at some period after the election is over, and after the state of the votes as returned has been made known, on the other, the correctness of the original official canvass, made by sworn officers at the time of the election, should be presumed."

The rule as above stated applies to the necessity of a preliminary and affirmative showing by contestant for the use of the ballots in question and has no application to evidence which in itself shows or tends to show that the ballot boxes were not properly kept and that the ballots are not the same or in the same condition as when counted by the judges of election. The latter is proof on the other side of the controversy, and in addition to the strength of the first presumption.

Having satisfied ourselves that the law is as stated above relative to the care of ballots and ballot boxes and the necessity of such showing by contestant before the original returns shall be contradicted, your Committee then proceeded to determine the facts relative to such matters in the five precincts in question. It is a fact worthy of consideration in this contest that in the five precincts in dispute, the ballot box in each precinct was a peculiar one, except that in the township of Edison—a box not such as is generally used for the purpose.

GRACEVILLE.

The ballot box in this precinct was a fifty pound lard can made of tin, had one hinge in the back and a hasp in the front. It locked with a padlock. (Testimony of Witness Williams, p. 50 Orig. Rec.) The evidence shows that after the ballots were counted by the judges on the night of election, they were placed in this ballot box and the box closed and locked. A strip of paper attached to the can near the hinge was drawn across the top and attached to the can near the lock, both ends being sealed with sealing wax,—that the sealing wax and paper failed to adhere to one side (Testimony of Witness Williams, Sup. Rec. p. 20). The clerk Williams testifies that the paper failed to adhere to the can probably on the hinged side (p. 21 Sup. Rec.) Inspector Thornton testifies that the paper was loose on the lock side and that when he opened the box to re-count the ballots, he opened the same without breaking the paper. (Sup. Rec. p. 28).

This box was kept in a vault in the village hall to which vault the custodian Williams and at least one other person, a Judge McDonald, knew the combination (Sup. Rec. p. 22). It also appears that the members of the village council has access to the room in which the vault was situated.

Such was the character of the box and such was the character of its care and custody.

We next considered the condition of affairs when the box was opened. When the box was opened by your committee, it was found upon the re-count that Froshaug had six votes, Farrington 150, and McElligott 44, whereas on the original count Froshaug had 9, Farrington 149 and Elligott 44. It appears that Froshaug lost 3 votes, or one-third of his entire vote on his original count, Farrington gained 1 vote, while McElligott was the same. There were two ballots upon which two candidates for Senator had been crossed. There were two Froshaug ballots with the initials E. T. S. on the bottom thereof, one Farrington ballot with the name Paul Mahoney on the back thereof, and one with the initials J. K. on the back thereof.

CLINTON.

This box was a wooden box and not locked—in fact, it never had a lock, being fastened with a nail—the cover fastened with hinges (Clerk Hewitt, p. 50 Orig. Rec.). It was sealed with paper and sealing wax in front, the paper extending over the lid (p. 53 Orig. Rec.). The clerk was not present when the box was sealed, but the witness Blair was present when it was sealed and fastened with a nail as aforesaid (p. 53 Sup. Rec.). This box was kept in a vacant store buliding used by J. D. Ross for the keeping of extras to machinery. The store building was a frame building on Main street in the Village of Clinton. Mr. Ross and his two sons had keys to the doors. There were two windows in the rear of the building. The building was an old one—one of the oldest in town. The box was in plain sight. (P. 53 Orig. Rec.) (Sup. Rec. p. 63-64).

It appears from the returns and the testimony of the election officials that there were 80 votes cast in this precinct and 79 of them cast for Senator, the original count being Froshaug 29, Farrington 39, McElligott 11. When the box was opened and the contents examined and ballots counted by your committee, it was found that Froshaug had 21, a loss of 8 votes, McElligott 10, a loss of one vote, and Farrington 43, a gain of 4 votes. There were also found 6 ballots upon which two candidates for Senator had been crossed. There were two other offices contested in Big Stone County, viz.: Representative to the Legislature and Sheriff. There were two ballots upon which two candidates for Sheriff had been crossed, but none where two candidates for Representative had been voted for.

ODESSA.

The ballot box used in this precinct was a wooden box, lid on hinges, locked in front with a padlock, sealed with paper and sealing wax. This box was kept under the stage in the village hall (Orig. Rec. p. 71). This hall was used for entertainments, lectures, dances, band practice and public functions in general. (p. 68 Orig. Rec.) (p. 121 Sup. Rec.). The marshal had a key to the building, as did also another (p. 65 Sup. Rec.). The apartment under the stage containing the box was not locked. The building was sometimes left unlocked for the use of the band boys, and left with no one in care of it (p. 122 Sup. Rec.). The custodian had no key to the building. He kept the township seal, an impression of which was placed upon the sealing wax when the box was locked and sealed on the night of election, in his desk at home, in which desk he kept township records, which records were examined by people other than custodian and family. (Orig. Rec. p. 75; Sup. Rec. p. 73-75-76).

The judges and clerks of election all testified before your Committee. It is shown from this testimony that one or two ballots were double crossed for Senator, meaning by double crossed, where two candidates for Senator were attempted to be voted for. The people testifying included the judge who read the ballots and the judge who watched him read them.

When the box was opened by your Committee and the ballots re-counted, it was found that 6 ballots were double crossed for Senator, while on the contested election for Representative there were none double crossed. There were four double crossed for Sheriff and 2 apparently in dispute. The original count in this precinct gave Froshaug 42, Farrington 61, and McElligott 18. The re-count showed Froshaug 36, Farrington 68 and McElligott 16. Froshaug lost 6 votes, McElligott 2 and Farrington gained 7. There was one Froshaug ballot with the initials D. A. on the bottom thereof, and one with the initials M. F.

ORTONVILLE.

The box used in this precinct was a peculiar box—a round metal box with a rod extending up in the center from the bottom of the box, with a thread on the end of the rod. The lid was fastened down by the rod, extended through a hole in the center of the lid, upon which a peculiar piece of iron with handle was screwed onto the rod, holding the lid down. It was then locked with two ordinary padlocks. (P. 58 Orig. Rec.) The box was not sealed in any manner. It was kept in the room of the custodian Matthews. The keys and the padlocks were kept in an ordinary envelope in the unlocked desk of the custodian in the same room. Custodian was a few times away from his room when it was not locked, once being called to Graceville upon a sort of fictitious, unexplained telephone message for a purpose in which it was known custodian was interested, but which trip when so made proved to be of no consequence for anybody, the man agreeing over the telephone to meet him failing to appear.

The judges and clerks of election testified that there were 3 or 4 double crossed ballots for Senator (p. 43-46-47 Sup. Rec.)

It also appears that a young man occupied the room with the custodian in which the ballot box was kept.

The original count in this precinct was Froshaug 81, Farrington 238, McElligott 31. When the box was opened and the contents examined and the ballots re-counted, it was found that Froshaug had 73 votes, Farrington 236 and McElligott 31; McElligott's vote remaining the same, Farrington losing 2 and Froshaug losing 8. In this precinct 13 ballots were found double crossed for Senator. Upon examination of these ballots, it conclusively appears that some of the double crossed ballots for Senator had one of the crosses placed thereon by some person other than the voter voting the ballot. This also appears in the precincts of Clinton and Odessa. While there was the unusual and unreasonable number of 13 ballots double crossed for Senator, thereby being absolutely inconsistent with the testimony of the judges of election, there was only one ballot double crossed for Sheriff, a hotly contested election, and none whatever double crossed on the contest for Representatives, Ortonville is contestant's home precinct.

EDISON, SWIFT COUNTY.

The box in this precinct was an ordinary metal box, lid on hinges, fastened in front with an ordinary padlock. (Orig. Rec. p. 43-94.) This box was produced before the inspectors at Benson, Minnesota, last December, by the custodian, Fred Halloway, who had kept it at his house. It was sealed and locked (p. 94 Orig. Rec.) The box was brought by the custodian to Benson and taken to the Aldrich hotel shortly before midnight preceding the day on which it was re-counted. It was placed in the office room of the hotel near the cigar case during the night. It had two coverings of paper around it and the string wrapped around the paper in a particular manner. When the custodian reached the box the following morning, to take it to the court house to be re-counted, he immediately discovered that the box had been tampered with, the first thing being noticed was that the string was tied around the box in a different manner. He made this known to everybody who cared to hear there in the office of the hotel, including the attorneys for contestee and one Thomas Boyle, the custodian of the ballot box from another precinct in Swift County. The matter was talked about the hotel, the box taken to the court house, and the statements relative to its tampering reiterated in the presence of all there, including contestant. When the papers were removed from the box, the seal was found to be broken. (Orig. Rec. p. 90-91.) (Witness Boyle, Sup. Rec. p. 130, et seq.) It conclusively appears to your Committee that this box had been opened the night preceding the re-count at Benson.

The clerk and one of the judges of election testified that in this precinct there was one ballot double crossed for Senator, and which was not counted, there being 45 votes cast and 44 counted for Senator.

When the box was opened by your Committee and the contents noted and ballots counted, there were found to be six ballots double crossed for Senator, five more than were double crossed on the original count as shown by the evidence of the clerk and judge of election, and it is significant that contestee lost just five votes, and these ballots so double crossed for Senator are all ballots upon which a cross appears opposite to the name of contestee. The original count in this precinct showed 13 votes for Froshaug, 27 for McElligott, and 4 for Farrington. The re-count showed Farrington's the same, but Froshaug's 8, a loss of 5 votes, losing about 40 per cent of his entire vote. The offices in Swift County for which there were more than one candidate were the offices of Representative, Treasurer, Sheriff and County Attorney, and it appears there was a sharp contest in this precinct for all these offices. There was one ballot double crossed for Sheriff, one double crossed for Representative, and none double crossed for the other offices enumerated.

An examination of each double crossed ballot convinces your Committee that with the exception of one, there was a cross placed thereon for Senator by some person other than the voter who voted the ballot. It is somewhat significant that the judges testified that there was one ballot double crossed for Senator on the original count, and your Committee's examination of all the crossed ballots confirms that statement.

It is true that the evidence is more conclusive and convincing in some precincts than in others, but it is also true that there are unexplained discrepancies and circumstances in each precinct. Your Committee believes that when one ballot in a ballot box is shown to have been tampered with since election, the same is absolute proof of access to the ballot box, and if access to the ballot boxes has been had, clearly this Committee or this Senate would not be warranted in contradicting the original returns made by the election judges and canvassing board. It is not for this Committee or this Senate to determine the degree of tampering; it is sufficient that we find that access was had to the ballot boxes or have reasonable ground to believe the same. As stated above, by the overwhelming weight of authority, the burden is upon contestant to make a proper showing in advance of the safe care of the ballot boxes and ballots before he can use these ballots to overcome the original returns. Contestant has failed to discharge this duty—has failed to make a proper showing. This alone would be sufficient to defeat contestant; but in addition to that, as is known to this Senate, your Committee went further and obtained evidence showing unexplained conditions in every one of the disputed precincts.

From the evidence brought to the attention of your Committee, a substantial and summarized statement of which is made above, the following combination of circumstances and conditions appear:

1st. The character of the ballot boxes in all but one of these disputed precincts is shown to have been peculiar and different from boxes ordinarily used for the purpose intended, and boxes affording easy means of access to their contents.

2nd. It appears that the care and custody of all but one of these ballot boxes was not as required by law, in one or two instances a ballot box not being in the care and custody of the legal custodian at all.

3rd. The testimony shows that the character and custody of the ballot boxes in dispute was such as to afford ample opportunity for tampering with the same.

4th. It appears from this testimony that when the ballot boxes were opened, the contents examined and the ballots re-counted, extraordinary and exceptional conditions were found to exist in each box, discrepancies of an unusual and unnatural character, and discrepancies which have never been in any manner explained. It further appears that crosses were made on ballots by persons other than the voter voting the ballot.

5th. It appears that there was an exceptional and extraordinary number of ballots double crossed for candidates for Senator, to an extent making these five precincts differ abnormally from all other precincts in the district.

6th. It is reasonable to presume that if these double crosses were placed thereon by the voter voting the ballot, the same conditions would have been found to exist in other offices for which there were two candidates on the same ballot, whereas an examination shows exactly the contrary to exist.

7th. Out of the remaining thirty-seven precincts in this district re-counted by the inspectors, no irregularities such as stated above were found to exist at all, and this fact is conceded by both parties to this contest. That one of these conditions might exist alone and yet admit of explanation may be conceded; but that all of these conditions should exist together and concur cannot be explained or reconciled. The chain of circumstances proven by the existence and concurrence of these unusual, abnormal conditions constitutes almost absolute proof that these ballots and ballot boxes have not only not been properly kept, but in fact have been tampered with; and such testimony and chain of circumstances prohibit a finding which could affect the correctness of the original returns.

Such being our conclusions, we leave the returns and the vote for Senator from this district as given by the judges of election and the legislative canvassing board, and find that contestee was duly elected Senator from the Fifty-sixth Senatorial district for the State of Minnesota, composed of Big Stone and Swift Counties, as declared by the legislative canvassing board of said district.

For the reasons above stated, your Committee recommends that contestee, S. J. Froshaug, be allowed to retain his seat in the Senate, and recommends the following resolution:

Resolved, That contestee, S. J. Froshaug, be entitled to a seat in the Senate of the State of Minnesota, as Senator duly elected from the Fifty-sixth Senatorial district of the State of Minnesota, at the election held therefor November 8th, 1910, and that he be seated as such Senator from that district in said body.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.
IN THE SENATE OF MINNESOTA.

RAY G. FARRINGTON, Contestant,
vs.
S. J. FROSHAUG, Contestee.

MINORITY REPORT.

The Committee on Elections having considered the evidence submitted to them in this matter, the undersigned members thereof, respectfully report:

This is an election contest in the Fifty-sixth Senatorial district, which comprises the Counties of Swift and Big Stone.

The candidates for Senator in that district at the general election held November 8th, 1910, were: T. J. McElligott, Republican, Ray G. Farrington, Democrat, and S. J. Froshaug, Prohibitionist.

The Legislative Canvassing Board of that district declared S. J. Froshaug elected by a plurality of 21.

Mr. Farrington contests the validity of that election on the ground of errors in the count of the ballots and canvass of the vote.

The ballots were re-counted by inspectors appointed by an order of the District Court of Big Stone County, made pursuant to section 337 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota, 1905.

Upon such re-count it was found that Mr. Farrington had a plurality of at least 22 votes.

The contestee concedes this.

But, after the ballots had been re-counted in certain precincts where Farrington gained or Froshaug lost votes on the re-count, the contestee and his attorneys claimed that the boxes and ballots in these precincts had been tampered with.

He has abandoned this contention as to all boxes and ballots except those in five precincts, viz.: Ortonville, Graceville, Clinton, Odessa and Edison.

Testimony was taken before two justices of the peace in the manner provided by Section 334 of the Revised Laws, and the contestant's evidence was transmitted and delivered to the President of the Senate on the first day of the session.

The testimony was printed and this case was argued and fully submitted to the Committee on Elections on January 19th, 1911.

The contention of the contestee was that the evidence was not sufficient to establish the fact that the boxes from these five precincts could not have been interfered with between the date of election on November 8th, 1910, and the time when the ballots were re-counted on December 21st and 22nd, 1910.

Each of these boxes was produced before the inspectors by the legal custodian of the same—the town clerk or village recorder.

Each box was both locked and sealed, or locked or sealed, and the keys to the same were in the possession of the custodian.

There was nothing in the appearance or condition of any box to indicate that it had been tampered with.

Two weeks after the case had been argued and submitted to the Committee on Elections, the Chairman offered and secured the adoption by the Senate of a resolution authorizing the Committee to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and records, and to take further testimony.

Judges and clerks of election from these precincts and the inspectors of the ballots were examined, and their testimony simply tended to strengthen the contestant's case, and establish the fact that these boxes had not been interfered with between the date of the election and the time when the ballots were re-counted by the inspectors.

The Committee then caused the ballot boxes in these five precincts to be produced before them and opened, and as soon as the boxes had been opened and the Chairman had simply counted the total number of ballots in each box without any attempt to ascertain for what candidates they were cast, the Committee went into executive session and excluded the parties to this contest and their attorneys, but retained in its possession all the ballots and boxes and sent the legal custodians of them home.

The Committee then proceeded in executive session, and after it had excluded the parties to this contest and their attorneys, to inspect the ballots.

The returns of the judges of election in these five precincts are clearly wrong.

In Ortonville the judges of election returned that 358 votes were cast and counted.

But the poll list shows that only 356 electors voted and it contains their names.

There were only 356 ballots in the box. The judges numbered them.

They returned that Knute Knutson, Republican candidate for Representative, received only 157 votes.

The Committee counted the ballots cast for him and find 168.

The judges returned that John Gowan, independent candidate for sheriff, received only 194 votes.

The Committee counted the ballots cast for him and find 198.

The judges returned that the vote for Senator was McElligott 31, Farrington 238, and Froshaug 81.

The inspectors found that McElligott received 31, Farrington 236, and Froshaug 73.

The result of the count made by the Committee is the same with 3 of the exhibits uncounted, and it finds 13 ballots on which there is an X opposite two of the candidates for Senator.

The judges and clerks testify that there were several ballots marked for two candidates for Senator, and they estimate the number all the from 2 to 10.

In Clinton the total number of ballots cast and counted was 80, and that number is found in the box.

The judges returned McElligott 11, Farrington 39, and Froshaug 29.

The inspectors found that McElligott received 10, Farrington 43, and Froshaug 21.

The result of the count by the Committee is the same, with six ballots on which two candidates were voted for Senator.

Blair, clerk of election, testifies that there were several such ballots cast. He does not know how many.

The Committee re-counted the ballots cast for Representative, and found that Knutson received 44 and Sigler 27.

But the judges returned that Knutson received 49 and Sigler 28.

The Committee also re-counted the ballots cast for sheriff and found that Maier received 40, Potter 9 and Gowan 22.

But the Judges returned Maier 42, Potter 11 and Gowan 26.

There are two on which 2 candidates are voted for for sheriff.

In Odessa the total number of ballots cast and counted was 130, and that number is found in the box.

The judges returned that McElligott received 18, Farrington 61 and Froshaug 42.

The inspectors found that McElligott received 16, Farrington 68 and Froshaug 36, and the result of the count by the Committee is the same exclusive of the 4 exhibits not counted by the inspectors for either party.

The Committee also counted the ballots cast for Representative, and found for Knutson 74 and Sigler 44.

But the Judges of election returned that Knutson received 75 and Sigler 44.

The Committee counted the ballots for sheriff and found for Maier 28, Potter 18, and Gowan 76.

But the Judges returned that Maier received 29, Potter 18 and Gowan 78.

There were found six ballots on which two candidates were voted for for sheriff, and six on which two candidates were voted for for senator.

In Graceville the total number of ballots cast and counted was 214, and the Committee found 214 in the box.

The judges of election returned that McElligott received 44, Farrington 149, and Froshaug 9.

The inspectors found that McElligott received 44, Farrington 150 and Froshaug 6, exclusive of six Exhibits attached to the evidence and not counted by them for either party.

The result of the count by the Committee was the same.

The Committee counted the ballots cast for sheriff and found that Maier received 139, Potter 5, and Gowan 65.

The judges of election returned that Maier received 140, Potter 5, and Gowan 65.

The Committee counted the ballots cast for Representative, and found that Knutson received 47 and Siegler 119.

But the judges returned that Knutson received 46 and Sigler 120.

There were two ballots on which two candidates were voted for for Senator, three on which no one was voted for Senator, and one on which two candidates were voted for for sheriff.

In Edison the judges of election returned that McElligott received 27, Farrington 4, and Froshaug 13 votes for Senator.

The inspectors found that McElligott received 25, Farrington 4 and Froshaug 8, and the result of the count by the Committee is the same.

The Committee recounted the ballots cast for Representative and found that Knutson received 9 and Sigler 34.

But the judges returned that Knutson received 9 and Sigler 35.

There was one ballot found on which two candidates were voted for for treasurer.

There is no direct evidence at all, and no satisfactory evidence of any nature that any of these ballot boxes, or of the ballots therein, had been tampered with between the date of the election and the date of the recount by the inspectors, and the differences in the result of the recount of the inspectors and the return made by the judges of election must be attributed to mistakes of the judges and clerks of election.

The evidence establishes the fact that the contestant received a plurality of at least 22 votes for Senator of this District at the General Election in November, 1910, and that he was duly elected Senator of that District at that election, and we recommend that the Senate so find and determine, and that it adopt the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That Ray G. Farrington was duly elected Senator of the 56th Senatorial District at the General Election held November 8th, 1910, and that he is entitled to and be given the seat of Senator of that District in this Senate.

SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

On motion, a delegation of women were admitted to the floor of the Senate to listen to the reading of memorial relative to Susan B. Anthony.

Mr. Sageng offered a memorial relative to Susan B. Anthony, with the request that it be read by the Secretary of the Senate.

Which request was granted.

On motion of Mr. Nelson, the memorial was ordered printed in the Journal of the Senate for the day.

MEMORIAL TO THE GOVERNOR AND LEGISLATURE OF MINNESOTA.

HONORED SIRs: On this, the 91st birthday of the great champion for betterment of women, Susan B. Anthony, we, representatives of thousands of the people of Minneapolis, come to pay our respects to your honored body. Twenty thousand men and women of Minnesota signed a petition to Congress for the enfranchisement of women last year, and thousands more would have done so had it been possible to offer them the opportunity.

It is fitting that we choose Miss Anthony's birthday to offer this memorial, for with her tireless energy, indomitable will, conscientious perseverance and rare sense of justice, she accomplished a great work. From the most reviled by press and pulpit she became the most beloved and highly honored, not only in America, but all over Europe, where crowned heads and the most distinguished men and women delighted to pay her the highest honors.

When this woman opened her eyes upon the light of our world, there was scarce a civilized nation whose standards were not tainted by the protection of human slavery somewhere within its domain. Not a woman was there in any land, or among any people, who did not live under shadow and oppression of laws and customs which should have been found alone in barbarism. When she laid down her self appointed task to uplift the world to a more just order of things, these iniquities had passed away as the result of that mighty movement. There is today an infinitely broader field of opportunity of happiness and usefulness for women than when she came. There is an immeasurably sounder, healthier and more rational relation between the sexes than when she began her work. There is a higher womanhood, a nobler manhood and a better humanity. This woman for a large part of half a century was the chief inspiration, counselor and guide of that movement.

Your Excellency, the Governor of Minnesota, and Honored Gentlemen of the Legislature, we have faith in your integrity; and when you have passed the bill which asks for the submission of an amendment, granting the right of suffrage to women, we pledge our active support of the measure to the end that Minnesota may in this matter, as in all others, rank among the leaders.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Nelson from the special committee on building material submitted the following majority and minority reports and moved that they be printed in the Journal of the Senate and considered by the Senate tomorrow.

Which motion prevailed.

MAJORITY REPORT.

To the Senate of the State of Minnesota:

WHEREAS, Pursuant to a resolution duly introduced and carried in this body on the 17th day of January, 1911, requesting that a committee of five be appointed by the President of the Senate to confer with the Board of Regents and Board of Control in reference to the cost of stone and brick, its durability and appearance for use in public buildings as compared with building material from other states, a copy of which resolution is hereto attached and made part hereof, the undersigned as members of said Committee respectfully submit the following as their findings and conclusions in reference thereto:

That your committee has held a number of meetings and has had before them the members of the Board of Control, certain members of the Board of Regents, the State Architect, and various parties from different points in the state and some from outside of the state interested in the foregoing matter, and has given the subject matter of said resolution careful and deliberate consideration.

As a result of said investigation and after carefully weighing all information secured your committee is of the opinion that building materials entirely suitable for the building of public buildings by the State including the new proposed buildings of the State University can easily be procured in the State of Minnesota from Minnesota producers thereof at prices as low as material can be procured outside of the State taking into consideration durability, appearance and all other matters that ought to enter into consideration of this question.

Your Committee further finds that in their judgment there is no necessity for going outside of the State of Minnesota for suitable building materials for state buildings and that the practice of so doing should not be tolerated as the tax payers of this State who furnish the money for building public buildings should certainly have the benefit of a return to them as far as possible of the money so furnished by spending it within the State.

Your Committee recommends that in the future public buildings should be built by the State from home material, and we deprecate the practice which apparently is about to become fixed of building State Buildings of materials procured outside of the State when suitable materials of equal or greater durability and for as low a price can be procured within the State.

In this connection we recommend that in the preparation of plans and specifications for public buildings the details thereof should not be confined to any particular specified brand of material but should always state in connection therewith that other material of a similar quality equal to that specified might be used.

Respectfully submitted,

S. A. NELSON. Chairman.

A. J. ROCKNE,

C. H. KLEIN,

JOHN D. SULLIVAN.

MINORITY REPORT.

The undersigned member of the special committee appointed to investigate the cost of building material used in the construction of state buildings, cannot concur in the findings and conclusions of the majority of the committee. It is a natural inference from the language of the majority report that it has generally been the practice in this state to construct public buildings of out-of-state material. The facts do not warrant any language which conveys this impression; on the contrary it appears from the investigations of the committee that only a very small per cent of the total cost of state buildings erected in the past, or about to be erected, arises from material purchased outside of the state. The special occasion, I believe, for the introduction and passage of the resolution providing for the appointment of this committee was that contracts were about to be let for the construction of certain buildings at the State University, in which, as it was reported out-of-state material was to be used. It appeared, however, on investigation that the cost of the foreign material which it is proposed to use in the buildings at the University amounts to only 15 per cent of the total cost of the buildings. In a large majority of the buildings constructed by the Board of Control since the creation of the Board 10 years ago, Minnesota brick and stone have been used exclusively. In the much smaller number of buildings in which outside material has been used to some extent, approximately 15 per cent of the total cost of the buildings can be charged to material purchased outside of the state. It is therefore conservative to estimate that less than 7 per cent of the total cost of all buildings constructed under the supervision of the Board of Control is chargeable to material produced outside of the state. This statement of facts, it seems to me is sufficient answer to much of the criticism which has been expressed relative to the use of "out of state material" in State buildings. It appears from this showing that the policy has been (and it certainly should be) to use Minnesota material whenever such use is consistent with the best interests of the state and the necessities imposed by the purposes for which the buildings were to be used. To go beyond this broad rule, and either by Legislative enactment or by any inflexible rule of any Board, limit the field absolutely to home material, would not only be inconsistent with our policy of free national intercourse, but would in the end militate against the interest of the taxpayers of the state.

That the superior building stone fund in this state have not been used more extensively in the construction of public buildings is a matter of regret, but the fault, in my judgment, lies with the Legislature which has failed to make appropriations sufficient to enable the several Boards to use this material and still meet the purposes for which the buildings were to be used.

I heartily concur in the recommendation of the majority of the committee "that in the preparation of plans and specifications for public buildings the details thereof should not be confined to any particular specific brand of material, but should always state in connection therewith that other material of a similar quality equal to that specified might be used."

(Signed) OLE O. SAGENG.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO VISIT THE STATE PRISON.

To the Senate of the State of Minnesota:

Your Special Committee appointed to visit the State Prison with a like committee from the House of Representatives have the honor to report that the joint committee visited the prison on Saturday, February 18, 1911. It is sufficient to say that your Committee found nothing deserving adverse criticism and much to commend. We were specially impressed with the Legislature wisdom which determined upon the policy of a new site for the prison and provided for the construction of buildings and workshops which the necessities of the future seems likely to require. The welfare of the inmates and the modern conception of the purposes of imprisonment seems to have a large share in shaping the plans and policies of the management of the prison, a thing which we especially commend.

The necessity of some employment for the inmates without injury to the welfare of worthy industries in this state is being met, as well as it is possible to do so, by the enlargement of the twine industry and farm machinery manufacture. While this meets with much criticism from some citizens of the state engaged in the manufacture or sale of these lines of commodities, yet we are convinced that it is not possible to provide the employment which the welfare of the inmates requires in any better field than that which is being done. No detail statement of statistical facts is necessary or proper in this place, as these can be found in various reports to this Legislature.

We can state without reserve that so far as your Committee was able to determine, the State of Minnesota is to be congratulated upon the management of the prison. Much credit is due for the satisfactory condition of the institution to the Warden, who has served the state so long and efficiently. We have no hesitancy in the conclusion that Mr. Wolfer is the right man for the place, and that the management of the institution reflects credit on the Board of Control. We find nothing that seems to require any special Legislative action.

ST. PAUL, February 25, 1911.

SIR: I feel it my duty at this time to call the attention of the Legislature to the urgent necessity for more adequate provision on the part of the state for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. It is not my intention to specifically recommend any form of legislation, but to call to your attention certain facts which have been gathered by the State Board of Health having a vital bearing on this most important subject.

Statistics show that tuberculosis causes more than one-tenth of all deaths occurring in the state and more than all the deaths resulting from any other preventable diseases. There are over two thousand deaths annually from this cause in Minnesota and over ten thousand living cases, a large proportion of which are sources of infection.

It is a mistake, also, to think that tuberculosis is a disease only of the cities or congested centers of population. Sixty per cent of the annual number of deaths from this disease occur outside of Ramsey, Hennepin and St. Louis counties, and it is a safe estimate that over $10,000,000 is lost every year to the state as a result of this disease.

On the other hand, if taken early in its stages, it is estimated that at least seventy-five per cent of the cases of tuberculosis can be practically cured and become no longer a burden on the community. While a considerable percentage of the early cases can be and are cured in the sanatoria, the great mass of these living now with the disease can only hope to have it arrested and controlled as to possible infection of others.

To further assist in checking the ravages of tuberculosis, the agencies now in operation must be materially augmented. There should be visiting nurses to trace out the victims in their homes, possibly inspectors of the public schools to detect infected persons, as well as public dispensaries where those suspecting the presence of tuberculosis can come for examination; and, furthermore, there must be ample hospital accommodations where patients in various stages of the disease can be properly treated.

These, in a general way, are the reasons upon which I base the recommendation that your body give this subject its more careful consideration.

It may be interesting to know that in the state of Pennsylvania $2,000,000 were appropriated last year for the maintenance of a state sanatorium and free dispensaries and the support of nurses and inspectors. New York State has a sanatorium for early cases, and in sixteen counties there are hospitals for the same purpose. Massachusetts has four state sanatoria; Connecticut has three, and Ohio has one state sanatorium and twelve county hospitals.

In comparison with these generous provisions in other states, in Minnesota we have but seventy-five beds in our one sanatorium, and in private institutions provisions are made for less than two hundred cases. At the State Sanatorium, since its opening three years ago, it has been necessary to refuse about half the applicants who wish to enter, and already over five hundred cases have been treated there. In comparison, therefore, with other states, and in view of the figures, which I have briefly set forth, Minnesota should make provision for institutional care of several times the number we now have.

I, therefore, submit this general recommendation to your intelligent consideration with every assurance that this most vital subject would enlist your hearty sympathy and your active co-operation.

Very respectfully,

ADOLPH O. EBERHART,

Governor.

“ ‘The legislature may provide general laws relative to affairs of cities, the application of which may be limited to cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of fifty thousand and not less than twenty thousand inhabitants, or to cities of twenty thousand and not less than ten thousand inhabitants, or to cities of ten thousand inhabitants or less, which shall apply equally to all cities of either class, or if so specified in the law, to all cities in either such class not having charters adopted pursuant to this amendment. Such laws shall be paramount while in force to the provisions relating to the same matter included in the local charter herein provided for.

“ ‘The Legislature shall enact any and all laws necessary or proper to carry into effect the provisions of this amendment, and shall prescribe by law the general limits within which such charter shall be framed. No local charter, provision or ordinance passed thereunder shall supersede any general law of the state defining or punishing crimes or misdemeanors.’

“Section 2. This proposed amendment shall be submitted to the people of this state for their approval or rejection at the next general election held therein, and each of the legal voters at said election may vote by ballot for or against said proposed amendment, and the returns thereof shall be certified and such votes canvassed, and the result thereof declared in the manner provided by law for the returning, certifying and canvassing votes of the general elections for the state officers and declaring the result thereof; and if it shall appear therefrom that a majority of the voters voting at said election have voted in favor of the same, then immediately after the result shall have been ascertained, the Governor shall make proclamation thereof, and said amendment shall thereupon take effect and be in full force as a part of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota.

“Section 3. The ballot used at said election on said amendment shall have printed thereon: ‘Amendment to Section thirty-six (36) of article four (4) of the Constitution, allowing cities and villages in this state to frame their own city charters and classifying cities, “Yes—No.” And each elector voting on such amendment shall make a crossmark thus (X), in one of outlet for the waters of the said Mustinka State Ditch or for the said surplus waters of the said Mustinka River, at a cost of about thirty-five thousand dollars."

Every association transacting business in this state, shall annually on or before the fifteenth day of February file with the insurance commissioner in such form as he may require, a statement under oath of its president and secretary, or corresponding officers of its condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December next preceding and of its transactions for the year ending on that date, and shall also furnish such other information as the insurance commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working. The insurance commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such associations.

“ ‘In addition to the annual report herein required, each association shall annually report to the insurance commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December 31st, last preceding; excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed, in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses; provided, the first report of valuation shall be made as of December 31st, 1912. Such report of valuation shall show, as contingent liabilities, the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such association under certificates then subject to valuation; and, as contingent assets, the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected. At the option of any association, in lieu of the above, the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided, and said net value, when computed in case of monthly contributions, may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years.

“ ‘Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary, or, at the request and expense of the association, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the home state of the association, and shall be filed with the commissioner of insurance within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report. The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates, except for disability benefits, shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality with interest at four per cent (4%) per annum, or, at the option of the association, any higher table; or, at its option, it may use a table based upon the association's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per centum per annum. Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation. Any association providing for disability benefits, shall keep the net contributions for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefits and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the association; provided, that where a combined contribution table is used by association for both death and permanent total disability benefits the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required.

“ ‘The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the association, but each association shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities.

“ ‘Beginning with the year 1914 a report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the association thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the association not later than June 1st of each year; or, in lieu thereof, such report of valuation and showing of the association's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the association's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the association. The laws of such association shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full, and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws, additional, increased or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency; and such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest not exceeding five per centum per annum.

“ ‘If the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December 31st, 1917, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than ninety per centum of the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such association shall be required thereafter to reduce such deficiency not less than five per centum of the total deficiency on said December 31st, 1917, at each succeeding triennial valuation. If at any succeeding triennial valuation such association does not show such percentage of improvement, the commissioner of insurance shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the association has not made the percentage of improvement required herein, the commissioner of insurance may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such association, in accordance with the provisions of section 24 of chapter 345 of the General Laws of 1907, or in the case of a foreign association, he may cancel its license to transact business in this state.

“ ‘Any such association, shown by any triennial valuation, subsequent to December 31st, 1917, not to have made the improvement herein required shall, within one year thereafter, complete such deficient improvement, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted be subject so far as stated rates of contribution are concerned, to the provisions of section 13 of chapter 345 of the General Laws of 1907, applicable in the organization of new associations; provided, that the contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the association until the required improvement shall be shown by valuation. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued as an independent association in respect of contributions and funds.’ ”

And that, when so amended, the bill do pass.

"4229. In an action in a court of record or justice court for the recovery of money, if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney at the time of issuing the summons, or at any time during the pendency of the action, or after judgment therein against the defendant, files with the Clerk of the Court, or, if the action is in a Justice Court, with the Justice, an affidavit stating that he believes that any person (naming him) has property or money in his hands or under his control (belonging to the defendant, or that such person is indebted) to the defendant, and that the value of such property or the amount of such money or indebtedness exceeds twenty-five dollars, if the action is in the District Court, a summons may be issued against such person, as hereinafter provided, in which summons and all subsequent proceedings in the action the plaintiff and defendant shall be so designated, and the person against whom such summons issues shall be designated as garnishee."

If the defendant does not appear at the time and place specified in the summons for the appearance of the garnishee, and it appears that the plaintiff has been unable to notify him, the examining officer may postpone the examination for such reasonable time as may be necessary for that purpose, and thereupon service of such summons and notice, together with notice of the time to which the examination is postponed, shall be served upon defendant, at least ten days if in the District Court, and three days if in Justice Court, before the day to which the examination is postponed; provided, that if the plaintiff, his agent or attorney files with the examining officer an affidavit that the defendant is not a resident of this state, and is not within the same as affiant verily believes, the examination shall proceed as if the summons and notice had been served upon defendant or he had duly appeared.

"Where, on the disclosure of the garnishee of any garnishment proceedings in Municipal or Justice Court it shall appear that the defendant is regularly employed by such garnishee and is paid on a day certain, and where, if judgment were entered against the garnishee the same would not be sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's judgment against such defendant, the court shall continue such case to the next regular pay day of such defendant as the same was disclosed, on the application of either the plaintiff or the defendant. Further continuance may be had to successive pay days until a sufficient sum shall have been paid by the garnishee from the money due defendant or to be due defendant to satisfy the judgment against the defendant and the costs in the garnishment suit.

"The court, if application for continuance is made, shall enter its order that the garnishee shall pay to the plaintiff or into the court for the benefit of such plaintiff, the amount due and to be due such defendant, exceeding the exemption, if claimed; if no exemption is claimed, for the full amount due and to be due such defendant on each successive pay day to be applied on the judgment until such judgment and costs are paid in full. If the garnishee shall not pay to the plaintiff or into court for the plaintiff the amount so ordered by the court or such an amount as may be due on each successive pay day, to which the case is continued, the court shall enter an interlocutory judgment for the amount due the defendant less the exemptions claimed. Provided, that if the garnishee shall fail to appear and make a further disclosure of the amount due on any day to which the case is continued, the court shall enter an interlocutory judgment against the garnishee for such an amount as the garnishee last disclosed would be due the defendant with costs of continuance less exemption, if claimed. If the garnishee shall disclose that the defendant is regularly employed with a pay day certain and that the amount that may be due defendant is a varying one, dependent upon the terms of the contract of employment, the case likewise may be continued to the successive pay days as hereinbefore provided until the judgment of the plaintiff is paid in full. On any interlocutory judgment entered hereunder, execution may be issued thereon, as provided by law, and appeals may be taken to the District Court and Supreme Court from any such interlocutory judgments, as in the case of appeals from other judgments."

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Putnam, from the Special Committee, to which was referred H. F. No. 893 and S. F. No. 665, said S. F. No. 665 being:

"A bill for an act to declare and establish the ownership by the State of Minnesota of the beds and lands under the waters of navigable rivers in the State of Minnesota, and when the channel of any such river within the limits of any city is changed, to transfer the title, use and disposal of lands thereby reclaimed to said city."

Submits the following report:

The committee was created under and pursuant to a resolution (found on page 2 of the Senate Journal for Thursday, March 30, 1911): "To ascertain and determine the extent and character of the land affected by the proposed change in the Mississippi River, the value of said land, and such further information in reference thereto as may be of value to the Senate in determining upon the wisdom and advisability of enacting into law S. F. No. 665 or H. F. No. 893." And the committee limited its investigations to the terms of said resolution.

Inasmuch as the committee was not empowered to compel the attendance of witnesses or take testimony in the ordinary way, it was limited in its investigations to the facts presented to it by the parties in interest and who were interested in the proposed legislation. It was made to appear to the committee that while the different acts were general in their nature and applied to all rivers in the state navigable for commercial purposes, the immediate object sought to be accomplished by the bills, if enacted into law, is as stated in the resolution creating the committee, to transfer to and vest in the City of St. Paul all the right of the State of Minnesota in and to the lands abandoned by reason of the proposed change in the channel of the Mississippi River, as the same now runs through the City of St. Paul, that is to say, to lands constituting "the old bed of the river."

A comprehensive plan is proposed for the improvement and reclamation of territory within the limits of the City of St. Paul beginning at or near the Wabasha Street bridge crossing the Mississippi River and extending down said river as it curves to Belvidere Street, a distance of approximately 13,000 feet, and as a part of the improvement it is proposed to construct a new river channel at a point not within the old river channel, which new river channel is curved in form and shorter than the old channel, the length of said new channel being approximately 11,000 feet. It was stated before the committee that the War Department, under whose supervision this improvement when made would be, required the new channel to be 1,000 feet wide and the levees 200 feet wide on each side of the river. The promoters of the enterprise caused to be passed by the national Congress an act in reference thereto, as follows:

"31st Congress, 3d Session.

H. R. 28632.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

December 19, 1910.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce and Ordered to Be Printed.

AMENDMENT

Intended to be proposed by Mr. Nelson to the bill (H. R. 28632) making appropriations for the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors, and for other purposes, viz.: Insert the following:

The Secretary of War is hereby authorized to permit such changes and diversion as to the harbor lines and channel of the Mississippi River at St. Paul, Minnesota, as may be necessary to provide for the improvement of navigation and suitable levees, transportation terminals, and landing places for shipping in said city.

Such changes and diversion shall be shown by plans and plats thereof, which shall be filed with and approved by the Secretary of War and the Chief of Engineers before any work shall be done thereon, and any change or diversion therefrom shall be unlawful unless a plan and plat thereof shall have been previously filed with and approved by the Secretary of War and Chief of Engineers, and there shall be submitted to Congress a survey and estimate of the amount, character and cost of any work properly to be done by the United States in connection therewith, but no action shall be taken by the Secretary of War or Chief of Engineers which may in a way commit the United States to any expense or obligation without direction by Congress.

As a condition thereof it shall be agreed by the said City of St. Paul as a part of said proposed plan that the said levees and landing places for shipping shall remain under the ownership, regulation, and control of the said municipality unless otherwise authorized by Congress."

The ultimate purpose and intention being to afford, in connection with the river improvement, railroad facilities and terminals, including union depot grounds, upon which it is proposed to construct a union depot in the City of St. Paul, the estimated cost of which was not furnished to your committee, but which it was stated would cost several millions of dollars.

While the original purpose of the promoters of the change in the river referred to was to afford terminals and railroad facilities, it appeared to your committee that the harbor improvement and facilities was an additional reason for the making of the change and securing the legislation connected therewith.

No information was furnished your committee as to the area or extent of the "old bed of the river," but the information furnished was that the area of the old channel within certain lines called United States harbor lines was 280 acres, but the extent of the old bed of the river, if any greater than 280 acres, was not made to appear to your committee, nor was any information furnished in reference thereto, although it was stated that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company had caused to be filled in certain portions of the old bed of the river—under what right did not appear—and is now using and occupying the same for railroad terminals. It also was stated to your committee that the acreage of the new channel, including levees, would be 380 acres, 260 of which was estimated to be the new channel, and 120 for the levees.

All the foregoing estimates were based on no accurate information claimed or possessed by any person who appeared before the committee; but it was reported that the figures were furnished by the engineer of the government. The extent of the land proposed to be taken for union depot purposes was stated to your committee to be about 35 acres, and this portion of the land is that which adjoins the present union depot.

No information was obtained as to the value of the land when so improved nor the value of the land in its use as and for station grounds and terminals, but it was conceded by all that the value when so reclaimed and filled would be very great, and without attempting to give any figures upon this, for none were furnished to your committee, that when so improved and used for terminal railroad purposes, the value is very greatly enhanced. It was stated before your committee that the cost of the improvement to the City of St. Paul would be in the neighborhood of two and one-half million dollars, but so far as appeared before your committee, there was no authorization for any such expenditure on the part of the City of St. Paul, save that contained in the bill recently passed by the Senate known as S. F. No. 662, authorizing a bond issue of $500,000.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Every such corporation may acquire, by right of eminent domain, such private property as may be necessary or convenient for the transaction of public business for which it was formed, provided that no street railway company shall have or exercise such right within the limits of any city or village."

Which motion prevailed.

jority" in the first line of said rule and by inserting in lieu thereof the words "two-thirds."

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate was called to order by the President at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

Hon. S. Y. Gordon, President of the Senate:

SIR: We, the undersigned Committee on Conference, to whom was referred—

H. F. No. 69, A bill for an act to authorize the State Drainage Commission to construct an outlet for the waters of the Mustinka State Ditch in Traverse County, Minnesota, and to appropriate money therefor.

Respectfully report and recommend as follows:

That the House recede from its refusal to concur in the Senate amendments and that the Senate recede from its amendments to said bill, and as a substitute for all amendments the Committee recommends the following:

Amend said House File by inserting the following immediately preceding the enacting clause thereof:

"Whereas, a special committee consisting of five members of the House of Representatives of the legislative session of the year 1909, duly appointed under the resolution of said House, duly adopted and which authorized the appointment thereof for the purpose and which was duly empowered to administer oaths and take the testimony of certain petitioners, seventeen in number, and others, in relation thereto, after taking such testimony, duly found and reported to said House that upwards of eight thousand acres of fertile farming lands in Traverse County, Minnesota, including the lands of the said petitioners, situated adjacent to the Mustinka river, in said county—previously under cultivation for about thirty years and during that time never overflowed—in the crop seasons of the years 1897 to 1908, were overflowed by overflow of the said Mustinka river; that such overflows of the said lands of the said petitioners and others during the said years, destroyed crops of the said petitioners of the value of $28,302.00, and depreciated the value of the said lands overflowed, including the lands of the said petitioners, to an amount equal to the difference between forty dollars and fifteen dollars per acre; that the said overflows of the said river occasioned by and resulted from the construction of the Mustinka State Ditch, which was constructed by the State of Minnesota during the years prior to 1896, but completed in said year, in order to drain lands situated in Grant County, Minnesota, then owned by the State of Minnesota, so as to make the said lands fertile, valuable and salable, and for no other purpose; that the overflow of the said Mustinka State Ditch is into the said Mustinka river, whose channel is inadequate to take care thereof; that such overflows of said Mustinka State Ditch and said Mustinka river have occurred each year since the construction of said ditch at times of rain or melting snow and will continue each year unless an adequate outlet for the surplus waters, brought to said Mustinka river as the result of the construction of said Mustinka State Ditch, is constructed; that the waters which overflow lands in the vicinity of said Mustinka river collect in pools at various low places therein and become stagnant and a condition is thus created which is detrimental to the health of the people residing in the vicinity of the lands so overflowed and the same constitutes a menace to the public health and a public nuisance, in addition to being a private nuisance and injury to all persons owning lands overflowed thereby or residing in the vicinity of such overflowed land; that the nature of such injury and nuisance is such that if caused by the act of an individual could and would be abated by action in the courts and damages recovered therefor; that it is feasible to construct an adequate outlet for the water of said Mustinka State Ditch or for the surplus waters of said Mustinka river so as to abate said nuisance and injury and so as to prevent injury to the health of the inhabitants of the vicinity of said ditch and said river and to promote public health, at a cost of about thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000.00)."

And further amend by inserting after the word "county" in line 6 of section 1, the following:

"And in order to abate the public nuisance created by the overflow of waters from said Mustinka State Ditch and prevent injury to the health of the inhabitants of the vicinity of said ditch and said river and the lands overflowed by the waters thereof, and to promote public health."

The foregoing amendments refer to the original bill.

MAJORITY REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to a joint resolution adopted heretofore by the Senate and the House of Representatives on the 14th day of February, 1911, the undersigned were duly appointed members of a special committee for the purpose of investigating the conditions prevailing in the State Training School for Boys at the City of Red Wing, in the State of Minnesota.

The resolution under which your Special Committee was appointed being as follows, to-wit:

"WHEREAS, On February 11, 1911, at a meeting of the Minnesota Legislature, A. D. Stephens, of Crookston, a former member of this Senate from Polk County, is quoted by the daily papers of the State to have made grave and serious charges against the management of the State Training School for Boys located at Red Wing, Minnesota; and,

"WHEREAS, Such charges are to the effect that the officers and attendants of such institution have been guilty of gross abuse of the inmates committed therein by flogging them unmercifully with flogging machines, and otherwise abusing them in a manner disgraceful to the State; now therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate, the House concurring, that a committee of seven be appointed, three by the President of the Senate, and four by the Speaker of the House, to thoroughly examine into such charges and report their findings to the respective branches of the Legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That such committee be, and they are hereby authorized to summon witnesses before it, administer oaths to such witnesses, to employ an expert reporter to make a verbatim report of all the evidence taken by such committee, and to compel the production of such documentary evidence as may be by the committee required."

That your committee so appointed organized on the 24th day of February, 1911, at the State Capitol, and thereafter held numerous public hearings for the purpose of ascertaining the truth or falsity of the charges set forth in said resolution aforesaid, and for the purpose of ascertaining and determining the exact conditions regarding the discipline maintained in said Training School, and particularly in regard to the extent to which corporal punishment has been resorted to for the purpose of maintaining discipline therein.

In addition to the testimony of the numerous witnesses examined before the committee, a visit was paid by your committee to the State Training School at the City of Red Wing, Minnesota, for the purpose of examining some of the inmates thereof, some of the subordinate officers of the institution, and of getting additional evidence in reference to the matters and things connected with the investigation of said school.

Your committee reports and finds after a careful and deliberate consideration of all the evidence received, including an examination of the records of punishment at said institution, and after giving full opportunity to the parties making charges of cruelty in the treatment of the inmates of said school, as well as to the Superintendent thereof, to be heard, that the facts in reference to the conditions existing at said training school so far as they relate to corporal punishment are as follows:

"A." That ever since said training school was established by the State of Minnesota, corporal punishment has been used as a means of maintaining discipline and that corporal punishment was so used at the time when the present superintendent, F. A. Whittier, took charge thereof, to a limited extent.

"B," That upon the present superintendent assuming charge and control of said institution he procured and caused to be used during the years 1903, 1904 and a portion of 1905, a certain appliance or so called machine, over which the inmates were placed, their feet being fastened on one side thereof, their wrists joined together and fastened upon the other side, their persons bared and that while in this position they were whipped, in very many instances excessively and cruelly.

That in the year 1905 a fire occurred at the institution, and this appliance or machine was destroyed, and since that time punishment has been inflicted in about the same manner except that the inmates were placed over a barrel in which were sacks filled with cement, or over sacks of cement, or over something else that would answer the purpose.

That during the years following the destruction of said machine or appliance hereinbefore referred to, and up to the date of the appointment of this investigating committee, corporal punishment of the inmates of said institution has been carried on to an extent that was cruel and excessive and that while in many instances the inmates of the institution were exceedingly hard to manage, and were deserving of punishment of some kind for offenses, still your committee finds that in very many instances severe and excessive corporal punishment was inflicted for comparatively unimportant breaches of discipline, and that in very many instances there does not appear to have been any temperate or judicial infliction of punishment.

“C.” That corporal punishment has been excessively inflicted in many instances by subordinates of the institution without the knowledge of the Superintendent until it was reported to him afterwards, and in some instances your committee finds that a correct report was not made, and that the record of punishments at the institution is not reliable in this, that it does not show all of the punishments inflicted, nor does it show the extent thereof.

“D.” That the superintendent of the institution confesses his inability to manage an institution of this character unless he continues to administer corporal punishment as in the past, and your committee finds that a continuation of such management is utterly out of the question. That while some slight corporal punishment of some of the younger boys at the institution might be advisable and necessary for certain violations of the rules, we are clearly of the opinion and so find that the corporal punishment as administered under the present management of the institution is wholly unjustifiable and can only result in brutalizing, not only the boys, but the inflictors of the punishment, and that we fail to see how young men who have reached the years of from sixteen to twenty can be made better citizens by the infliction of such punishment as has been carried on at the institution.

Your committee recommends that the Board of Control of this State make a change in the management of said institution, and we furthermore recommend that some of the subordinates, namely, Assistant Superintendent Dorn and Family Managers Stoppleman and Metzold be discharged from the service of the State of Minnesota.

We further recommend to the Board of Control that they only tolerate and allow corporal punishment at said institution under such stringent rules and regulations as they may prescribe.

Your committee recommends that there shall be provided at once by the state at said institution a suitable gymnasium with a swimming pool for the use of the inmates, and that the management of said institution be conducted along humane lines, and with as little resort to corporal punishment as may be consistent with the maintenance of discipline and strictly under the supervision of the Board of Control as hereinbefore indicated.

We return herewith for filing with the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, duplicate copies of all the testimony taken by such investigation, so that the members may have access thereto, for the purpose of verifying if they so desire the foregoing findings, all of which is respectfully submitted.

MINORITY REPORT SPECIAL COMMITTEE RED WING TRAINING SCHOOL INVESTIGATION.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Minnesota Legislature:

I am unable to concur in all the recommendations and findings of the majority number of the committee, and especially in that part that recommends to the Board of Control practically a change of the entire management of the institution. I most heartily agree with the majority in their recommendation that corporal punishment to boys of over sixteen (16) years of age should be entirely abolished; but in order to do this there must be other means provided by the State at this institution than there has been in the past in order to maintain discipline. Discipline is absolutely essential at an institution of this character or its end and aim would be lost. To maintain that discipline over boys over sixteen (16) years of age, the State through the Board of Control, must provide at the institution other means of correction for breach of rules. At the present time and during all the time in the past, only two small cells have been provided by the State, and it will be readily seen than this is entirely inadequate in an institution having three hundred or more inmates, the majority of whom are over sixteen (16) years of age. The evidence taken before the committee clearly shows that in nearly all cases of corporal punishment of boys over sixteen years of age it has been for some plot or conspiracy involving eight, nine or ten of the largest boys where they have either assaulted an officer of the institution, attempted to set the building on fire or laid plans for a wholesale escape. The superintendent now in charge has repeatedly called the attention of the Legislature and the Board of Control to the fact that it was absolutely necessary that some part of the institution should be enclosed by a wall, like a prison, in which to confine those larger boys that have been guilty of gross infractions of the rules. These appeals and recommendations have been passed unnoticed by the Legislature, and I cannot but feel that it would be absolutely unfair, unjust and cruel to, at this time, pass a sweeping judgment upon the officials of the institution when the State itself is in a measure the guilty party. The entire record of evidence taken fails to produce from the lips of any of the boys who testified any criticism of the superintendent of the institution, and the great majority of the witnesses called by Senator Stevens have had none but kind words to offer in his behalf.

In this connection I would recommend that the Board of Control be directed to, as soon as possible, inclose one of the buildings in such a manner as shall meet the recommendations of the superintendent in his report to the Board of Control for the year and subsequent reports. This, I believe, will make corporal punishment of the majority of the boys entirely unnecessary and will aid in bringing about the results desired. I will further recommend that the Board of Control be more careful in the future in their selection of Family Managers, and if necessary, pay better wages in order to get better service of good and efficient assistants.

All the cases of excessive punishment disclosed in the record of the evidence taken in the investigation have been of boys between ages of sixteen (16) and twenty (20) and each instance has been for some gross infraction of the rules which could not be passed by unnoticed or by slight punishment without seriously affecting the discipline of the institution. I feel that the State, to a certain extent, has neglected to properly care for this institution by furnishing the means and equipment necessary to handle so difficult a task as that imposed upon the superintendent of an institution of this kind, and I feel that until this has been corrected it would be unjust, unfair and beneath the dignity of this Legislature to summarily discharge the management of the institution.

In the other recommendations of the committee I in the main concur.

Respectfully submitted,

A. J. ROCKNE.

Mr. Rockne moved that the majority and minority reports lie on the table, but be printed in the Senate Journal.

Which motion prevailed.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ST. PAUL, April 12, 1911.

Hon. Sam Y. Gordon, President of the Senate:

SIR: I respectfully request that Mr. Clague be permitted to introduce a bill entitled:

"A bill for an act appropriating money for expenses and compensation of James H. Davidson as Chairman of Waterways Commission of the State of Minnesota."

This request is made under and in accordance with the provisions of section one (1), article four (4) of the Constitution of this State.

Very respectfully,

ADOLPH O. EBERHART,

Governor.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS—CONTINUED.

Mr. Clague introduced—

S. F. No. 923, A bill for an act appropriating money for expenses and compensation of James H. Davidson, Chairman of the Waterways Commission of the State of Minnesota.

Which was read the first time and referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Your committee to whom has been referred the subject-matter of H. F. No. 721 and S. F. No. 564, being companion bills, beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee met at 9 o'clock A. M., April 12, 1911, in the office of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission. After due consideration of all the facts, the committee is of the opinion that the establishment of a public dock by the City of Duluth is a worthy enterprise; that it will tend to equalize the rates, charges and service of all of the docks in the Duluth harbor; that a public dock will enable all shippers to take advantage of the facilities thus offered at reasonable rates without discrimination, preference or advantage to any one, and that it will be of great public service. At the present time there is no public dock in the city. All the docks are either owned by the old line transportation companies or private individuals.

The state owns the tract of land described in section 1 of said bill. It was purchased in 1893 at the price of $11,000.00 for the purpose of establishing a public warehouse and elevator thereon, and was paid for out of the grain fund. At the present time the property is idle and the state has no use for it. Wise public policy dictates that the state should lease this property, under proper safeguards, to the City of Duluth, to be used for the purpose of a public dock. Therefore your committee is of the opinion that the bill should pass with such amendments as are hereinafter stated.

Your committee recommends that the bill be amended by striking out all of said bill after the enacting clause and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“Section 1. The State Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to execute, in the name and behalf of the State of Minnesota, subject to the provisions of this bill, a lease to the City of Duluth, in this state, containing the following terms and in substantially the following form, namely:

“For and in consideration of the annual rental of one dollar per annum, payable on the first day of May of each year during the life of this agreement, the State of Minnesota does hereby lease to the City of Duluth, in said state, and said City of Duluth does hereby take from said State of Minnesota all the following described piece or parcel of land situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, including any portion thereof covered by water, to-wit:

“Commencing at a point upon the southeast line of right-of-way of Duluth Transfer Railway Company and upon the eastern boundary line of riparian and submerged lands appurtenant to Harrington's Addition to Duluth, as said boundary line has been heretofore established by a certain agreement recorded in Book “L” of Agts., page 17, the said point of commencement being 639 feet southeast from the southeast line of First or Oneota Street as same is extended through said Harrington's Addition to Duluth and Sutphin's Addition to Duluth; running thence southeast along said east boundary line to established dock line in Bay of St. Louis, same being a distance of 2,380.4 feet more or less; thence in a westerly direction along said dock line for a distance of 230 feet; thence in a northwest direction parallel with said east boundary line hereinbefore mentioned and 230 feet distant therefrom to southeast line of right-of-way of Duluth Transfer Railway Company, being a distance of 2,371.2 feet more or less; thence in a northeast direction to commencement, being a distance of 230.18 feet more or less; for the term of twenty-five years from May first, nineteen hundred eleven. The property herein demised shall be used by the City of Duluth for the purpose of public docks, wharves and warehouses. If said city shall not have improved said real estate prior to May first, nineteen hundred sixteen, so that the same shall be in actual use as a public dock, wharf and warehouse, this lease shall become void and said real estate, together with any improvements that may have been made thereon, shall revert to the state, free and clear of any right, claim or interest of said city therein or thereto, or of any lien thereon. Such public dock, wharf and warehouse and all privileges thereto shall be open to the public without undue advantage or discrimination and in conformity with law. The state does hereby reserve from the above described property a tract of land near the dock line 100 feet wide by 350 feet long for the use of the state for a public elevator site, such elevator to be erected by any association of grain growers of the state that may be designated by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission. The said elevator shall be public and subject to such control as may be provided by statute, and the City of Duluth shall build and maintain proper railway tracks to said elevator. Provided, however, that if an elevator shall not be constructed, or in process of construction, within twelve years after the execution of the agreement, then said reservation to be null and void.

"The City of Duluth shall not lease, sub-lease or assign all or any portion of said above described property, and the City of Duluth, by the execution of said lease, shall be held to have accepted all the terms and conditions thereof, and as provided by statute.

"Section 2. Such public dock, wharf or warehouse and all privileges thereto shall be open to the public and no monopoly in the use thereof shall be allowed. All rates, schedules of rates, charges, rules, regulations and service shall be just and reasonable and no unequal, or unreasonable preference or advantage shall be given, discrimination permitted or rebate allowed. The Railroad and Warehouse Commission, hereafter called the Commission, shall have supervision and control over the rates, schedules of rates, charges, rules, regulations and service of such public docks and wharves, and shall have the same power and authority, upon its own motion or upon complaint and after hearing, to declare any such rate, schedules of rates, charges, rules, regulations and service or any part thereof to be unequal, unreasonable or discriminatory, and to adopt and establish any such new rates, schedules of rates, charges, rules, regulations and service in lieu thereof as such Commission now exercises in the case of railroad and express rates and service under chapter 28 of the Revised Laws of 1905. All rates, schedules of rates, charges, rules and regulations shall be filed with the Commission and published in such manner as may be required by it, and all orders made by said Commission shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein before all courts. Such orders shall be subject to review on appeal in the same manner as provided in said chapter 28, Revised Laws of 1905. It shall be the duty of the Commission to enforce all provisions of this act."

And, when so amended, that the bill do pass.

No. 451, A bill for an act to amend chapter two hundred and twenty-nine (229) of General Laws of eighteen hundred ninety-five (1895) establishing municipal courts in cities of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants, as amended by chapter two hundred seventy-one (271) of the General Laws of eighteen hundred ninety-nine (1899).

S. F. No. 631, A bill for an act to authorize cities in this state now or hereafter having a population of more than fifty thousand inhabitants to issue and sell bonds for acquiring and improving lands for public parks and parkways.

ST. PAUL, April 17, 1911.

Hon. S. Y. Gordon, President of the Senate:

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith letter received from the Attorney General of this State making report upon certain matters involving request for settlement of suits against the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Very truly yours,

ADOLPH O. EBERHART,
Governor.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
ST. PAUL, April 15, 1911.

Hon. A. O. Eberhart, Governor:

SIR: The Western Union Telegraph Company is owing the State of Minnesota the sums of money hereinafter mentioned for taxes. At different times during the past years its property in this State has been duly assessed, but the company, instead of paying the full amount of the tax based thereon, has paid only a part thereof, leaving certain balances, and upon these balances the State has brought suit. Of these suits some have been determined in favor of the State in the supreme court of this State, and have been appealed by the company to the supreme court of the United States, where they are now pending. It is my belief that they can be heard in that court during the present year. The balance of these suits are pending in the district court of this State awaiting the action of the supreme court of the United States.

Under date of April 12, 1911, the Western Union Telegraph Company, through C. M. Ferguson, Esquire, of Minneapolis, one of its attorneys, wrote me, proposing a compromise in settlement of all this litigation, such proposition being:

"The company to accept the said contested assessments involved in said litigation, and to pay the contested balances of taxes levied thereon with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the respective times when, under the laws of the State they respectively become subject to interest or penalty; also to pay the costs taxed and allowed to date in said litigation."

In connection with the offer of the company to pay such balances and interest thereon at six per cent, it is proper to call your attention to chapter 82 of the Laws of Minnesota for the year 1907, wherein it is provided, in effect, that such balances are bearing interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum. In other words, the proposition of the Western Union Telegraph Company is to pay what is due and owing to the State, and to pay six per cent per annum interest thereon instead of six per cent upon claims reduced to judgment, and twelve per cent upon all others, the respective amounts due the State for taxes; the amount of interest thereon, and the difference between the present claim of the State and the proposition of the company is shown by the paper hereto attached, marked "Exhibit A," and made a part hereof.

With the Legislature of the State in session it is but proper that the matter should be submitted to that body, and I therefore have the honor to transmit this statement of fact, together with the proposition of the Western Union Telegraph Company, to you for such action in the premises as you may deem proper.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE T. SIMPSON,
Attorney General.
